MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE CO-OPERATIVE BANKS BILL, 2007

1. BACKGROUND OF THE BILL

1.1 The introduction of sector-specific legislation on the development and prudential regulation of deposit-taking financial services co-operatives was one of the elements of the financial sector summit agreements signed in 2002 by the NEDLAC constituencies.

This agreement follows the collapse of two self-regulatory bodies early in 2002. These self-regulatory bodies were created by way of an Exemption Notice issued in terms of the Banks Act, 1990 (Act No. 94 of 1990) (“the Banks Act”). Such an Exemption Notice allows for financial services co-operatives to take deposits under a pre-approved self-regulatory model. The self-regulatory model is suboptimal in that it is not comprehensive in the regulation and supervision of deposit-taking co-operatives and depend entirely on the donor agencies for their existence and operation.

The introduction of the Co-operative Banks Bill seeks to create a development strategy and a regulatory environment for deposit-taking financial services co-operatives. This will ensure the sound and safe management of depositor money by financial services co-operatives and promote the development and growth of such co-operatives. This will in turn promote access to financial services for people in rural communities who have no access to formal banking services.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

The Bill seeks to—

- (a) promote and advance the social and economic welfare of all South Africans by enhancing access to banking services under sustainable market conditions;
- (b) promote the development of sustainable and responsible co-operative banks; and
- (c) establish an appropriate regulatory framework and regulatory institutions for co-operative banks that protect members of co-operative banks;

by providing for—

- (i) the registration of deposit-taking financial services co-operatives as co-operative banks;
- (ii) the establishment of co-operative bank supervisors to ensure appropriate and effective regulation and supervision of co-operative banks, and to protect members and the public interest; and
- (iii) the establishment of a Development Agency for Co-operative Banks (“the Agency”) to develop and enhance the sustainability of co-operative banks.

3. SUMMARY OF BILL

The Bill has 12 chapters, which can be summarised as follows:

Chapter I contains the relevant definitions and sets out the purpose of the Act. It also indicates to whom the Act applies, how the Act aligns with the Co-operatives Act, 2005 (Act No. 14 of 2005), and identifies types of co-operative banks.

Chapter II provides for the registration, constitution, functions and management of co-operative banks.

Chapter III sets the prudential requirements for co-operative banks and provides for large exposures.

Chapter IV provides for deposit insurance and voluntary schemes.

Chapter V seeks to adequately provide for the amalgamation, division, conversion, transfer, judicial management and winding-up of co-operative banks specifically.

Chapters VI and VII provide for representative bodies and support organisations for co-operative banks.

Chapters VIII, IX and X provide for the appointment of supervisors and establish the Co-operative Banks Development Agency and an appeal board.

Chapters XI and XII provide for general provisions which include offences and penalties and matters relating to fair administrative action, the certification of documents, access to records, registers and other documentation, indemnity of supervisors, regulations, the powers of the Minister of Finance, civil liability of directors or managing directors, exemptions from the Bill and transitional provisions.

4. ORGANISATIONS AND INSTITUTIONS CONSULTED

The following institutions commented on the Bill during the public consultation process that took place from December 2004 to February 2005: ABSA Bank; Savings and Credit Co-operative League of South Africa (SACCOL); Standard Bank; NEDLAC (Labour and Community Constituencies); South African Reserve Bank (Banking Supervision & National Payment System Departments); Department of Agriculture; Community Microfinance Network; Competition Commission; Banking Association; Payment Association of South Africa (PASA); Microfinance Regulatory Council (now the National Credit Regulator); World Bank; Historical Indigent People's Co-operative; German Co-operative & Raiffeisen Confederation (DGRV-SA); Office of the Auditor General; and South African Institute of Chartered Accountants.

5. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

The Bill will have financial implications for the State as it will be required to fund the following entities: the Development Agency for Co-operative Banks, the Co-operative Banks Deposit Insurance Fund; the appeal board and the office of the supervisors of co-operative banks. Funding for the Co-operative Banks Deposit Insurance Fund will be undertaken in the initial stages of incorporation, after which it should operate on a self-sustaining basis.

6. CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLICATIONS

None.

7. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

7.1 The State Law Advisers and the National Treasury are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure prescribed by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.

7.2 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
