I hereby submit my report for tabling in terms of section 13(3)(b) of the Act.

MINISTER OF JUSTICE AND CORRECTIONAL SERVICES

PROVISIONAL SUSPENSION FROM OFFICE: MS R GOVENDER: DISTRICT COURT MAGISTRATE LENYENYE, LIMPOPO

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of this report is to inform Parliament on the provisional suspension from office of Magistrate Govender, a district court magistrate at Lenyenyene, Limpopo pending the outcome of a misconduct hearing into her fitness to hold office as a magistrate, as required by section 13(3)(b) of the Magistrates Act, No. 90 of 1993.

2. BACKGROUND

- 2.1 Magistrate Govender is a 58 year old female and was permanently appointed as a district court magistrate on 1 February 2018 at the Lenyenyene Magistrates Court.
- 2.2 The misconduct charges preferred against Magistrate Govender emanate from Criminal Case A81/2019 - The State versus Mongwe Victor Mangena, Special Review Case REV60/2020 in the the High Court of South Africa, Limpopo Division, Polokwane [S v Mangena (A81/2019) [2021] ZALMPPHC 1; 2022(1) SACR 102 (LP)], in which the Honourable Judge Kganyago ruled that a copy of the judgement be forwarded to the Magistrates Commission for their attention. According to the judgement, Magistrate Govender was dishonest, her behaviour inappropriate and brought the name of the magistracy into disrepute.

3. DISCUSSION

- 3.1 Due to Magistrate Govender's conduct the Magistrates Commission resolved to charge her with misconduct. A charge sheet and a letter of provisional suspension dated 24 August 2023 was served on Magistrate Govender on 30 August 2023. Magistrate Govender was invited to show cause why she should not be charged and provisionally suspended from office.

3.2 The Commission charged Magistrate Govender with the following counts of misconduct:

3.2.1 Count 1

Contravening regulations 25(c) and 25(i) of the Regulations for Judicial Officers in the Lower Courts, R. 361 dated 11 March 1994 (“the Regulations”) read with regulation 26(17) of the Regulations, as amended, section 16 of the Act, section 180(b) of the Constitution, and further read with the Preamble and Articles 4(a), 5(i), 9(a)(i), 9(a)(ii), 9(a)(iii), 10(1)(a) and further read with the applicable Notes of the Code of Judicial Conduct for Magistrates published in R.41888 dated 7 September 2018 as contained in Schedule E of the Regulations, as amended in that:

Between 3 September 2019 and 26 May 2021, at Lenyenye Court House, in the matter of the State v Mongwe Victor Mangena, Criminal Case A81/2019, Magistrate Govender improperly changed an accused’s plea of guilty to not guilty and acquitted the accused without a trial taking place.

Magistrate Govender accordingly contravened the judicial code of conduct in that she failed to obey the laws of the land (in this regard, sections 112 and 113 of the Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977 as amended); and/or with diligence; and/or (3) acted in a manner that is prejudicial to the administration of justice and unbecoming of a judicial officer.

3.2.2 Count 2

Magistrate Govender is alleged to have contravened regulations 25(c) and 25(i) of the Regulations for Judicial Officers in the Lower Courts, R. 361 dated 11 March 1994 (“the Regulations”) read with regulation 26(17) of the Regulations, as amended, section 16 of the Act, section 180(b) of the Constitution, and further read with the Preamble and articles 4(a), 5(i), 9(a)(i), 9(a)(iii), 10(1)(a) and further read with the applicable Notes of the Code of Judicial Conduct for Magistrates published in R.41888 dated 7 September 2018 as contained in Schedule E of the Regulations, as amended in that:

During the special review query in S v Mangena (A81/2019) [2021] ZALMPHC 2022(1) SACR 102 (LP), Magistrate Govender wilfully and unlawfully provided false, and/or incorrect statements to the reviewing Judges that gave “...a picture that shows that on the 9th September 2019 there was a full blown trial for the whole day, and thereafter the matter was postponed for judgment, but did not specify to which date was the matter postponed” when in truth and in fact Magistrate Govender knew or ought to have known that she acquitted the accused without a trial taking place, to the prejudice of the administration of justice.

Magistrate Govender accordingly contravened the judicial code of conduct in that she failed to act with integrity; and/or (2) failed to act in a manner that upholds and promotes the good name, dignity, and esteem of the office of magistrate and the administration of justice; and/or failed to act honourably and in a manner befitting of a judicial officer.

- 3.3 On 30 August 2023, Magistrate Govender was, in compliance with the rules of natural justice, invited to furnish the Commission with representations why the Commission should not recommend that she be provisionally suspended from office. Magistrate Govender did not address the issue of her possible suspension or charges against her. Magistrate Govender in this regard elected to remain silent.
- 3.4 In the circumstances it is recommended to provisionally suspend Magistrate Govender from office.
- 3.5 The Magistrates Commission is of the view that the allegations against Magistrate Govender are of such a nature as to make it inappropriate for her to further perform the functions of a magistrate.

4. AUTHORITY TO PROVISIONALLY SUSPEND

4.1 In terms of section 13(3)(a) of the Magistrates Act, 90 of 1993, the Minister, on the advice of the Magistrates Commission, may provisionally suspend a magistrate from office if-

“(i) the Commission, after affording the magistrate a reasonable opportunity to be heard regarding the desirability of such provisional suspension, is satisfied that reliable evidence exists indicating that an allegation against that magistrate is of such a serious nature as to make it inappropriate for the magistrate to perform the functions of a magistrate while the allegation is being investigated; and

(ii) an investigation has been instituted by the Commission into such magistrate’s fitness to hold office.”

4.2 A report in which the provisional suspension and the reasons therefore are made known, must, in terms of section 13(3)(b) of the Magistrates Act, 90 of 1993, be tabled in Parliament by the Minister within 7 (seven) days of such suspension, if Parliament is then in session, or if Parliament is not then in session, within 7 (seven) days after the commencement of its next ensuing session.

5. CONCLUSION

5.1 In light of the above, I decided to provisionally suspend Magistrate Govender, a District Court Magistrate at Lenyenye, Limpopo from the office of Magistrate with immediate effect, pending the outcome of the misconduct hearing into her fitness to hold such office.

5.2 This report is submitted for consideration by Parliament in terms of section 13(3)(b) of the Magistrates Act, No. 90 of 1993.

Given under my hand at Pretoria ..... on this 20th day of December ..... 2023.

PROVISIONAL SUSPENSION FROM OFFICE: YOURSELF

1. As you are aware, the Magistrates Commission has received a complaint that (1), you irregularly, and improperly changed an accused's plea of guilty to not guilty and acquitted the accused without a trial taking place in the matter of State v Mongwe Victor Mangena, Criminal Case A81/2019; and (2), you wilfully and unlawfully mislead the Judges in a query they raised during a special review in the same matter with the neutral citation [S v Mangena (A81/2019) [2021] ZALMPPHC 1; 2022(1) SACR 102 (LP)], a copy of which is annexed hereto as "A".
2. Your conduct, prima facie, amounts to dishonesty, unlawfulness, and brings the name of the magistracy into disrepute. It is also detrimental to the proper administration of justice and is prejudicial to all the parties involved.
3. The Ethics Committee of the Magistrates Commission considered the complaints against you and is satisfied that should the abovementioned improprieties be found to be true, you will be considered not to be a fit and proper person to hold office as a magistrate.

  - 4.2 Has recommended to the Magistrates Commission, to advise the Minister on your provisional suspension from office without any remuneration, pending the outcome of such an inquiry against you. A copy of the charge sheet is annexed to this letter as "AA".

REVIEW JUDGMENT

KGANYAGO J.

- [1] This matter was brought on special review by the Head of Court Lenyenyé Magistrate court.
- [2] On 3rd September 2019 the accused appeared before magistrate Ms R Govender on a charge of alleged contravention of a protection order. He pleaded guilty to the charge. After pleading guilty and as the trial court was about to explain to him the provisions of section 112 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Act<sup>1</sup> (CPA), the accused informed the trial court that he was seeking a legal representative from Legal Aid South Africa to represent him in that matter. On hearing that, the presiding magistrate informed the prosecution that the accused has decided to change his guilty plea and therefore she was recording a plea of not guilty in terms of section 113 of the CPA. The prosecution tried to bring it to the attention of the presiding magistrate that the accused was seeking legal representation and not changing his plea. However, the presiding magistrate responded by telling the prosecution that since the accused was seeking legal representation, she still had to change his plea, as the accused has to consult with his attorney, and they will decide. The guilty plea was accordingly recorded as that of not guilty. The matter was postponed to the 9th September 2019 for the accused to go and apply for a Legal Aid attorney.

- [3] On 9th September 2019 the accused appeared in court represented by a Legal Aid attorney. The matter was postponed to the 23rd September 2019 for confirmation of the accused Legal Aid representation. On 23rd September 2019 the records were not yet transcribed, and the matter was postponed to the 14th October 2019 for transcription of the record. On 14th October 2019 Ms Govender was not in court and the matter was postponed the 22nd October 2019 for the presiding magistrate and also for the case docket. The transcribed record does not show what transpired on the 22nd October 2019, but shows that on the 11th November 2019 the matter was postponed to the 2nd December 2019 for the presiding magistrate. Again on the 2nd December 2019 the matter was postponed to the 10th February 2020 for the presiding magistrate. On the 10th February 2020 the matter was postponed to the 24th February 2020 for trial.
- [4] On 24th February 2020 the accused did not attend court and a warrant for his arrest was authorized. The accused bail money was provisionally forfeited to the State and the return date was the 9th March 2020. On 9th

March 2020 the accused appeared in court in person, and the warrant for his arrest was cancelled and his bail was reinstated. The matter was postponed to the 16th March 2020 for the accused Legal Aid attorney. On 16th March 2020 the matter was postponed to the 4th May 2020 for State witnesses and trial. On 4th May 2020 the matter was postponed to the 8th June 2020 for the presiding magistrate who was not in court that on that day.

- [5] On the 26th May 2020 the matter was in court before the presiding magistrate Ms Govender. From the transcribed record it seems that the presiding magistrate had requested the prosecution to secure the attendance of the accused for the 26th May 2020, but the prosecution could not succeed in doing that. After that the presiding magistrate proceeded to deliver her judgment in the absentia of the accused, and the accused was found not guilty and discharged.
- [6] When the Head of Court picked up this acquittal during his routine office inspection, he requested some comments from the presiding magistrate and the prosecution. In her reply the presiding magistrate informed the Head of Court that from the charge sheet that was handed to her, her judicial inscriptions of the 9th September 2019 appears to have been taken out of the charge sheet, and that she reserves her comments until she had listened to the full record of the 9th September 2019 on the recording machine.

[7] The prosecution in its comments has stated that the matter was postponed to the 8th June 2020. However, on the 26th May 2020 the presiding magistrate called the matter without the accused or complainant being present. The court proceeded to dispose the matter by acquitting the accused, and that the State was not afforded an opportunity to address the court on a postponement of the matter.

[8] When this matter was laid before me on special review, I requested some comments from the presiding magistrate and she commented as follows:

"[1] The Honourable Judge Kganyago's directives dated the 27th August 2020 received on 28th August 2020, the contents thereof being noted.

[2] The handwritten record of 09/09/2019 seems to be mislaid, for reasons unknown but part of the transcribed record of the same date has been transcribed.

[3] This case was indeed mechanically recorded however that part of the record after the tea break cannot be retrieved from the recording system.

[4] This matter stands out as a sore thumb in the Judicial Officer's mind as the Legal Aid attorney that handled this case attended court after a long bereavement of her nascituris fiction.

[4.1] Subject to further directives by the Honourable Judge I wish to place on record that the Judicial Officer applied careful introspection of the matter at hand and notes the following procedure was used to take the matter to finality.

[4.2] On 3rd September 2019, the Accused initially pleaded guilty, and section 112 (1) (b) procedure was used as he was in person, but alluded to a defense, thereafter a section 113 change of a plea was inscribed on the J15. Rights to Legal Representation was reiterated and the Accused favoured legal aid.

[4.3] The matter was postponed for legal aid to take instructions and continue with the trial.

[4.4] The Judicial Officer was at all times extremely vigilant of the norms and standard set in Limpopo.

[4.5] The matter proceeded on 9th September 2020 before and after tea break with the state calling the complainant (victim) to adduce evidence under the watchful eye of the Judicial Officer overseeing that Justice is done.

[4.6] The defense attorney (legal aid) took the court by surprise with excellent cross examination of the complainant who failed dismally in her version of events that led to the accused appearing before the court.

[4.7] The state did nothing extraordinary to rebut the cross examination and closed its case.

[4.8] The defense attorney closed her case without calling the accused.

[4.9] Arguments by both parties were adduced and due to the lateness of the hour approximately 16h05 on 9th September 2020, the matter was postponed for judgment.

[4.10] The court gave judgment after due consideration of the evidence adduced and acquitted the accused.

It is the humble submission by the Judicial Officer of record that the decision regarding the Acquittal (accused found not guilty) of the accused to be confirmed as proper procedure has been followed with due diligence, after consideration of the Norms and Standard set in Limpopo Province"

[9] The presiding magistrate received the review query from the reviewing Judge on the 28th August 2020 and she signed her comments on the 7th September 2020. Therefore, the 9th September 2020 referred in her comments is incorrect. Even in her reply dated 6th July 2020 to the Head of Court she refers to the inscriptions made on the charge sheet for the proceedings of the 9th September 2019. Therefore, the correct date is the 9th September 2019 as captured on the transcribed record, her reply to the Head of Court, and that the 9th September 2020 is just a typing error.

[10] I have also requested the opinion of the Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions (DDPP). The DDPP have furnished me with a helpful opinion and I am indebted to them. The DDPP is of the opinion that the proceedings were not in accordance with justice and should be set aside.

[11] The first issue to be dealt with is the manner in which the presiding magistrate has recorded the accused's plea of not guilty. When the trial started, the accused pleaded guilty to the charge as laid against him. As the presiding magistrate was about to explain the provisions of section 112 (1) (b) of the CPA, the accused informed the trial court that he was seeking to be represented by a Legal Aid attorney. Without entertaining the accused's request, the trial court took that as a change of the guilty plea by the accused, and it recorded a plea of not guilty in terms of section 113 of the CPA.

[12] Section 113 of the CPA read as follows:

"(1) If the court at any stage of the proceedings under section 112 (1) (a) or (b) or 112 (2) and before sentence is passed is in doubt whether the accused is in law guilty of an offence to which he or she has pleaded guilty or if it is alleged or appears to the court that the accused does not admit an allegation in the charge or that the accused has incorrectly admitted any such allegation or that the accused has a valid defence to the charge or if the court is of the opinion for any reason that the accused's plea of guilty should not stand, the court shall record a plea of not guilty and require the prosecutor to proceed with the prosecution: Provided that any allegation, other than an allegation referred to above, admitted by the accused up to the stage at which the court records a plea of not guilty, shall stand as proof in any court of such allegation.

(2) If the court records a plea of guilty under subsection (1) before any evidence has been led, the prosecution shall proceed on the original charge laid against the accused, unless the prosecution explicitly indicates otherwise."

[13] The prerequisite for a presiding officer to record a plea of not guilty in terms of section 113 are that (i) there must be doubt whether the accused is in law guilty of the offence which he or she had pleaded guilty; (ii) or it must appear to the court that the accused does not admit an allegation in the charge; (iii) or that the accused has incorrectly admitted any such allegation; (iv) or that the accused has a valid defence to the charge; (v) or if the court is of the opinion for any other reason that the accused's plea of guilty should not stand. It does not mean that all the five prerequisites should be present at the same time for the presiding officer to record a plea of not guilty in terms of section 113 of the CPA. Usually whether either of the five prerequisite is present, will be determined during the questioning of the accused after pleading guilty in establishing whether the accused is admitting all the elements of the offence, or when the accused is testifying in mitigation of sentence. That is the reason the section state that at any stage of the proceedings but before sentence is passed.

[14] In Shiburi v S<sup>2</sup> Makgoka AJA as he was then said:

"When questioning the accused in terms of s 112 (1) (b) the court's duty is to determine whether an accused factual statements and answers in his or her plea of guilty adequately support the conviction on the charge. It is not the courts' function to evaluate the plausibility of the answers, or to determine their truthfulness at this stage of the proceedings. Instead, for the purposes of the section, the accused explanation must be accepted as true. On that premise, the court should consider whether the explanation discloses a possible defence in law to the charge he or she pleaded guilty to. As is plain from the text of the section, the presence of doubt is a jurisdictional factor to trigger the application of the procedure laid down in s 113. Thus, once a basis exists, objectively considered, the court has no residual discretion but to apply the procedure set out in s 113"

- [15] There must be the basis for the presiding officer to record a plea of not guilty in terms of section 113. The presiding officer will be guided by what the accused tells the court during questioning by the court or when the accused testify during mitigation of sentence, and not what the presiding officer thinks will transpire. Judicial officers should guard against preconceived views. (See Bula and Others v Minister of Home Affairs and Others<sup>3</sup>)
- [16] In the case at hand, the presiding magistrate was about to explain the provisions of section 112 (1) (b) to the accused, when the accused, informed the court that he was seeking to be represented by a Legal Aid attorney. On that basis the presiding magistrate invoked the provisions of section 113 of the CPA. Her reasoning for that was that when the accused seeks legal representation, she had to change the plea as the accused had to consult with his attorney, and thereafter they will decide. This in my view, is a wrong test that was followed by the presiding magistrate. She was pre-empting what might transpire after the accused had consulted with his legal practitioner, and that was based on pure speculation. She invoked the provisions of section 113 based on her own speculation and not on what the accused had placed before court.

In my view, the presiding magistrate had misdirected herself in the manner in which she had invoked the provisions of section 113. The application before her was that of legal representation, and that is what she should have dealt with. Whether the accused at a future date would have changed his plea or not, that was not an issue that should have concerned her at that stage.

[17] The second issue to be dealt with pertains to the record of the proceedings. According to the presiding magistrate, her hand written notes of the 9th September 2019 seems to have been misplaced for reasons unknown to her. The presiding magistrate has further stated that despite her hand written notes being misplaced, part of the proceedings for that date have been transcribed. She had also stated that part of the record cannot be retrieved from the recording system. On her foot note in reply to the reviewing Judge, she has stated that a possibility exist that the case was recorded on DCRS which was no longer in use as they have migrated to CRT, and that is the reason why the record cannot be transcribed as it no longer appears on the ICMS. What the presiding magistrate is highlighting is that the record that is placed before the reviewing Judge is incomplete and that the incomplete record cannot be reconstructed since her hand written notes were missing and also that since they have migrated from DCRS to CRT, the records could no longer be retrieved.

[18] The presiding magistrate went on to state that the matter proceeded on 9th September 2019 before and after tea break with the State calling the complainant to adduce evidence under oath under the watchful eye of the judicial officer overseeing that justice was done. She had further stated that the defence attorney took her by surprise with her excellent cross examination of the complainant who had failed dismally in her version of the events. According to her, the defence attorney thereafter closed the accused case without calling the accused to testify. Thereafter both parties submitted their closing address and the matter was postponed for judgment.

[19] The proceedings of the 9th September 2019 wherein the complainant allegedly testified and the parties submitted their closing address does not form part of the transcribed record. The alleged missing part constitute the whole trial which is vital to this court to determine whether the proceedings appears to be in accordance with justice. In the absence of that missing part of the record it will be difficult for this court to determine whether the proceedings were in accordance with justice or not.

[20] In S v Phakane<sup>4</sup> Zondo J said:

"[39] As to when it can be said that an incomplete record will result in the infringement of an accused's right to a fair appeal, in S v Chabedi the Supreme Court of Appeal said:

'(T)he requirement is that the record must be adequate for proper consideration of the appeal; not that it must be a perfect recordal of everything that was said at the trial...The question whether defects in a record are so serious that a proper consideration of the appeal is not possible, cannot be answered in abstract. It depends inter alia, on the nature of the defects in the particular record and on the nature of the issues to be decided on appeal'.

This passage was quoted with approval by this court in Schoombee.

[40] In the present case the full court did not have before it a record on the basis of which it could fairly assess whether the trial court's conviction of the applicant was correct. The trial record available to the full court was simply not adequate for a proper consideration of the applicant's appeal. Therefore, the applicant's right of appeal was frustrated by the fact that material evidence was missing from the record."

[21] In the case at hand, the transcribed record is not adequate and the defects are so serious as the entire evidence upon which the conviction has been based is missing. The transcribed record is not adequate for a proper consideration of the review. The proper remedy will be to set aside the proceedings in its entirety.

[22] The third area of concern in this matter and probably the most disturbing, is the response of the presiding magistrate after being requested by the reviewing Judge to give her comments in this matter. The impression created in her response is that on the 9th September 2019 there was a full blown trial, but that the proceedings for that date have not being transcribed in full. Further that for reasons unknown to her, her hand written notes for the 9th September 2019 has been removed from the charge sheet. This is a serious accusation which had some elements of gross misconduct by whoever might have removed her hand written notes from the charge sheet.

[23] It will be helpful to quote directly from the record in relation to the proceedings of the 9th September 2019 to illustrate the serious discrepancy in the presiding magistrate's response and the transcribed record:

"PROCEEDINGS ON 9TH SEPTEMBER 2019

PROSECUTOR: The state calls case number B81/2019 the state v Victor Mangena. The matter is on the roll today for accused to apply for Legal Aid your worship.

COURT: Is it B court? Is it a B court matter?

PROSECUTOR: It is A, your worship. I mixed it. The matter is on the roll for accused to apply for Legal Aid. I see it is already [Indistinct]

COURT: Legal Aid, are you on record?

PROSECUTOR: Thank you, your worship.

COURT: The date again?

PROSECUTOR: May be postponed for further hearing, your worship. For state witnesses and further hearing. Counsel's [indistinct] diary. Counsel, 7 October your worship, will be suitable for further hearing.

COURT: Ms Legal Aid you are still to confirm your instructions, confirmation of Legal Aid.

DEFENCE ATTORNEY: Your worship, may I place on record for the accused. I also confirm the date of the 7th October your worship for further hearing.

COURT: For consideration of Legal Aid only

DEFENCE ATTORNEY: Correct, your worship. I was not there when [indistinct]

COURT: So how can we place it for hearing.

DEFENCE ATTORNEY: Your worship, we have to postpone maybe for transcribed record but the best thing was for to receive the record, that will be the fastest way. But I will follow the transcribed record, I do not know how long does it take, maybe two weeks for transcribed record.

DEFENCE ATTORNEY: Transcribed record, your worship, for two weeks.

PROSECUTOR: Can we place it on the 23 September, your worship.

COURT: 23rd day of?

PROSECUTOR: Your worship, is it, the clerk of court is saying something, I cannot hear him.

COURT: Could we have order please. Mr Mangena, Ms Prosecution?

PROSECUTOR: Your worship, the accused person pleaded but I was not there but I do not have a problem, your worship to listen to the record in the morning of that day when the trial will be proceeding to hear what did he say. But however for Legal Aid, your worship, I think maybe she might need a transcribed record. But however I am not sure if she does need the transcribed record because the accused person has already pleaded guilty, said something that might incriminate him if she advise him otherwise. So she needs to prepare herself for that. I do not know whether she needs a transcribed record or rather she will also do the same that I am going to do on the date of the trial, your worship. It is up to her. If she says she wants transcribed record it is the accused person right. If she says she will listen to the record like I do, I am not sure whether she will choose the listening or transcribed record your worship.

COURT: Legal Aid, are you confirming your appearance today that you have also accepted that this particular person, Mr Mangoma, Mangena, you will continue with the matter because I know that Legal Aid normally has to do the means test before [indistinct] is accepted on Legal Aid.

DEFENCE ATTORNEY: Your worship, I am confirming the instruction for today, your worship. Further that his application will be processed and then if he qualifies to be represented by Legal Aid, your worship, that is when I will be able to continue and confirm his plea, your worship, that has been changed. And also the transcribed records, your worship.

COURT: What is your full names? Full names?

ACCUSED: [Indistinct]

COURT: The matter is postponed to the 23 October 2019 for confirmation of Legal Aid and transcript, the transcribed record, your bail is extended, you are warned for 8:30.

INTERPRETER: 23?

COURT: October

DEFENCE ATTORNEY: September your worship, two weeks, I am not sure because I was waiting for her to confirm if it is two weeks. I do not know how long does it take, your worship. It is only her that can assist us...[intervenes]

COURT: With what things

PROSECUTOR: The transcribed record, how long does it take, I do not know, your worship. But we may postpone it for two weeks, the 23rd then for her confirmation with Legal Aid and we will see what are the results on that day, your worship. 23 September, not October, two weeks. 14 days your worship.

COURT: Sir this matter is postponed to the 23rd September 2019 for confirmation of Legal Aid only. Your bail is extended, you are warned for 8:30.

MATTER POSTPONED TO 23RD SEPTEMBER 2019 [09:40]

COURT ADJOURNS

[24] From this quote, it is clear that on the 9th September 2019, the matter was not trial ready and State witnesses were not even before the court.

The 9th September 2019 was for the accused to apply for Legal Aid attorney. Even though the Legal Aid attorney has attended court on that date, she was still to confirm instructions to represent the accused. On the 9th September 2019 there was also the issue of the transcribed record of date on which the accused had pleaded. On the 9th September 2019 the trial court had postponed the matter to the 23rd September 2019 "for confirmation of Legal Aid only" and the court adjourned at 9:40. It is clear that on 9th September 2019 this matter did not proceed beyond tea time.

[25] It is mind boggling as to which proceedings is the presiding magistrate referring wherein a full blown trial took place. The presiding magistrate's reply to the query letter of the reviewing Judge is not in line with the transcribed record, specifically the proceeding of the 9th September 2019. In my view, this is a deliberate attempt by the presiding magistrate to mislead this court in trying to cover herself for the irregularity committed by her in the manner in which she had acquitted the accused. She had created imaginary proceedings of the 9th September 2019 despite the transcribed record speaking for itself. Even if her hand written notes might have been misplaced as she claims, the record of the 9th September 2019 gives a full picture of what transpired on that date, and that record does not appear to be incomplete.

[26] With regard to the proceedings of the 3rd September 2019, the presiding magistrate has stated that the accused had initially pleaded guilty, and section 112 (1) (b) procedure was followed but the accused alluded a defense, thereafter a section 113 change of plea was inscribed on the J15. The record of the 3rd September 2019 shows that as the trial court was about to explain the section 112 (1) (b) procedure, the accused requested Legal Aid representation, and that is what triggered the presiding magistrate to act in terms of section 113 of the CPA. The record does not show which defence had the accused alluded which prompted the presiding magistrate to act in terms of section 113 of the CPA. What the record shows is that the accused was at no stage questioned in terms of section 112 (1) (b) of the CPA. It seems that the presiding magistrate is trying to manufacture evidence which does not exists.

[27] The reviewing query letter was specific as to what the presiding magistrate should comment on. It read as follows:

"[1]...On reading the memo requesting automatic review, there are serious allegations made against you in the manner in which you have acquitted the accused on 24th May 2020.

[2] As per your letter dated 6th July 2020 addressed to S Phakula Head of Court, you have also made serious allegations that your hand written notes have been taken out from the charge sheet. In conclusion you have stated that you reserve your comments after you have listened to the full record of 09/09/2019 on the recording machine. Unfortunately, we don't have your comments after listening on the recording machine.

[3] In order to enable us to have a full picture of this matter, kindly let us have your comments within seven (7) days of receipt of this letter."

[28] The presiding magistrate has failed to address the circumstances that led her to bringing the trial forward to the 26th May 2020 despite the matter having been properly postponed to the 8th June 2020 in an open court. The presiding magistrate has failed to address the allegations raised by the prosecution that on the 26th May 2020 when she delivered her judgment, she did not give them an opportunity of addressing the court regarding the postponement of the matter. In her reply, the presiding magistrate has given a picture that shows that on the 9th September 2019 there was a full blown trial for the whole day, and thereafter the matter was postponed for judgment, but did not specify to which date was the matter postponed. If indeed the matter on merits was finalized on the 9th September 2019 and what was outstanding was for the presiding magistrate to deliver her judgment, logic dictates that for such a short trial it would not have been postponed to the 8th June 2020 for judgment. Something does not add up here. There are more questions than answers.

[29] The presiding magistrate in replying the Head of Court has stated that she will make her comments after listening on the recording machine. In replying to the review query letter, she did not state whether she had listened to the recordings or not. However, what she had stated in her reply is that part of the record after tea break cannot be retrieved from the recording system. The transcribed record of the 9th September 2019 shows that the accused's matter was adjourned at 9h40 after it was postponed to the 23rd September 2019, and there were no further proceedings in relation to that matter on that date after tea break. Again this shows that the presiding magistrate is trying to mislead this court by creating imaginary proceedings which did not exist. This court views that in a serious light since it comes from a judicial officer who had taken an oath to uphold the Constitution and dispense justice without fear, favour or prejudice. A judicial officer is obliged to display the uttermost honesty, integrity and honourable conduct at all material times when executing his/her duties. The reply by the presiding magistrate in relation to the proceedings of the 9th September 2019 leaves much to be desired. It will therefore be proper if copy of this judgment is brought to the attention of the Magistrates Commission.

[30] In conclusion, the manner in which the presiding magistrate has recorded the accused plea of not guilty in terms of section 113 of the CPA, the manner in which the accused was acquitted in his absentia, and also misleading this court that the complainant was called to testify whilst no evidence was ever led, amounts to serious gross irregularities which taint the whole proceedings. The proceedings were therefore not in accordance with justice and stand to be reviewed and set aside.

[31] In the results I make the following order:

31.1 The acquittal of the accused stand be reviewed is set aside.

31.2 The matter is remitted to the trial court for a trial de novo before a different magistrate should the State still wish to pursue this matter.

31.3 Copy of this judgment be sent to the Magistrates Commission for their attention.
