MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE PLANT IMPROVEMENT BILL, 2015

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 Plant improvement is an important element of agricultural production in South Africa and other countries across the world. Plant improvement in South Africa has been primarily regulated by the Plant Improvement Act, 1976 (Act No. 53 of 1976) (“the Act”). The scope of the Act addresses aspects relating to the quality of plants and seed utilised and traded in South Africa.
- 1.2 The standards set by the Act are recognised by international organisations such as the International Seed Testing Association (“the ISTA”) and the seed schemes of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (“the OECD”). This allows South Africa to participate in the global trade of seed.
- 1.3 The significance and role of the Act lies in recognising the importance of quality plant propagating material to support sustainable agricultural production as well as participation in the global market by setting quality standards for plants and seed and for the types of business dealing with plants and seed.
- 1.4 The Act has been amended several times, the last being in 1996. Although the regulatory role of the Act in the agricultural industry remains critical, review of the Act has indicated that the scope and provisions of the Act are not entirely aligned to the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (“the Constitution”) and other related legislation in the agricultural sector.
- 1.5 The Plant Improvement Bill (“the Bill”) aims to enhance sustainable crop production in South Africa by regulating the quality of plants and seed. Crop production is not only dependent on the development of new varieties of plants with improved and useful characteristics of increased yields or disease tolerance, but also on the quality of plants and seed. Due to the influence of storage conditions on plants and seed for planting purposes, the Bill also prescribes standards for the different types of business involved in the selling of plants and seed. The standards set by the Bill will contribute to the food security and overall economy of the country.
- 1.6 The National Development Plan (“the NDP”) highlighted the central role of agriculture in terms of job creation, rural development and food security. Key outcomes expected from the agricultural sector include the creation of 1 million jobs by 2030, food security as well as prosperous rural areas. The NDP includes better integration of the country’s rural areas, achieved through successful land reform, infrastructure development, job creation and poverty alleviation. In order to attain these expectations, the agricultural sector will depend on access to production inputs which include high quality propagation material, like plants and seeds.
- 1.7 The Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries (“the Department”) also shifted focus towards creating an enabling environment for the agricultural sector that is accessible and inclusive of all participants, irrespective of the size of their contribution to the sector. This is to be achieved through the provision of efficient and appropriate services via its various agricultural support programmes and improved regulatory systems. It is within this framework that plant improvement activities should be recognised to provide support to strengthen existing commercial production while simultaneously improving the participation of new entrants and facilitating smallholder farmers to make the transition to mainstream agriculture.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

- 2.1 Clause 1 of the Bill contains the definitions in order to guide the interpretation of the provisions in the Bill.

- 2.2 Chapter 1 of the Bill provides for the application of the Bill. In terms of clause 2 the Bill will apply to such kinds of plants for agricultural, industrial and forestry production as the Minister may declare by notice in the Gazette for the purposes of the Bill.
- 2.3 Chapter 2 of the Bill deals with administration. It makes provision in clause 3 for the designation of a Registrar of Plant Improvement by the Minister. The Registrar is also empowered to appoint technical and administrative persons to support him or her in the performance of his or her functions in terms of the Bill and to delegate his or her functions. Clause 4 prescribes how the Registrar must exercise his or her discretionary powers. Clause 5 prescribes that the Registrar must keep a register of every business and premises registered in terms of the Bill and clause 6 provides for a register of all national varietal listings in terms of the Bill. In terms of clause 7 the registers in clauses 5 and 6 will be prima facie evidence of all matters directed or authorised by the Bill to be noted therein. Clause 8 provides for the inspection of documents submitted in connection with applications for national listing.
- 2.4 Chapter 3 of the Bill deals with the registration of business and premises. The types of business that must be registered are set out in clause 9 and the premises on or from which business may be conducted are set out in clause 10. The types of business that must be registered in terms of the Bill are the cleaning and conditioning of seed, pre-packing of seed, selling of seed, running of a nursery or other type of multiplication facility, running of a laboratory, importation of plants or propagating material and export of plants or propagating material. Premises on or from which a type of business may be conducted must be registered in terms of the Bill and must comply with requirements which will be prescribed by regulations to be made by the Minister. Clause 11 provides for the application for registration of business and premises. Clause 12 prescribes when the Registrar must register a business and premises and clause 13 when the Registrar must refuse to register a business or premises. Clause 14 prescribes the period of registration of a type of business and premises. Any change of circumstances of a person in whose name a type of business and premises has been registered must be notified to the Registrar in terms of clause 15. Clause 16 provides for the application for a renewal of the registration of premises and clauses 17 and 18 for the approval and refusal of applications for such renewal. Clause 19 empowers the Minister to exempt a type of business and premises from the requirement to register under the Bill. The power of the Registrar to terminate the registration of a type of business or premises under certain circumstances is set out in clause 20. Clause 21 provides for the display of certificates of registration at registered premises and also for the return of certificates upon termination of registration.
- 2.5 Chapter 4 of the Bill prescribes the conditions for the sale of plants and propagating material. Clause 22 prescribes the requirements relating to the sale of plants and propagating material for purposes of cultivation and clause 23 provides for exemptions regarding certain plants and propagating material.
- 2.6 Chapter 5 of the Bill deals with the National Varietal List. In terms of clause 24 the Registrar must keep and publish a list of specific varieties or all varieties of kinds of plants prescribed by the Minister by regulation. Clause 25 requires the applicant for listing to ensure that for the period that the denomination of the variety is included in the national varietal list propagating material of the listed variety is maintained for inspection. Clause 26 provides for the removal of varieties from the national varietal list.
- 2.7 Chapter 6 of the Bill regulates issues around application for national listing. Clause 27 lists the varieties that are eligible for national listing. Clause 28 regulates applications for national listing. Clauses 29 and 30 regulate the circumstances under which the Registrar must reject or accept applications for national listing. Clause 31 provides for the amendment of applications for national listing. Clause 32 provides for the lodging of objections to applications for national listing.

- 2.8 Chapter 7 of the Bill provides for variety denominations. Clause 33 provides for issues in connection with the denomination of varieties and requires amongst other things that an applicant for national listing must propose a denomination that complies with requirements prescribed by regulation when applying for national listing. 5. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 5.1 The Constitution regulates the manner in which legislation must be enacted by Parliament. It prescribes different procedures for different types of Bills. Section 75 of the Constitution sets out the procedure to be followed when the National Assembly passes a Bill other than a Bill to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies. Section 74 deals with Bills amending the Constitution and does not apply to the Bill under discussion. Section 76 of the Constitution on the other hand provides for a procedure that must be followed for ordinary Bills affecting the provinces. In terms of section 76(3) of the Constitution, a Bill must be dealt with in accordance with a procedure established by either section 76(1) or 76(2) if it falls within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution or provides for legislation envisaged in paragraphs (a) to (f) of section 76(3). Schedule 4 to the Constitution lists functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence.
- 5.2 In Tongoane v Minister of Agriculture and Land Affairs 2010 (6) SA 214 (CC), the Constitutional Court ruled on the test to be used when tagging a Bill. The Court held in paragraph 70 that the “test for determining how a Bill is to be tagged must be broader than that for determining legislative competence”. In paragraph 72 the Court stated as follows: “Whether a Bill is a section 76 Bill is determined in two ways. First, by the explicit list of legislative matters in section 76(3)(a)-(f), and second by whether the provisions of a Bill in substantial measure fall within a concurrent provincial legislative competence”. The tagging test focuses on all the provisions of the Bill in order to determine the extent to which they substantially affect functional areas listed in Schedule 4, and not on whether any of its provisions are incidental to its substance [paragraph 59 of Tongoane].
- 5.3 The Bill seeks to regulate all aspects relating to the propagation of, multiplication of, testing of, import of, export of and trade in such kind of plants for agricultural, industrial and forestry production as the Minister may determine for the purposes of the Bill. “Agriculture” and “Trade” are functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution. Since the provisions of the Bill in substantial measure fall within concurrent provincial legislative competences, the Department and the Office of the Chief State Law Adviser are therefore of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 76(1) or (2) of the Constitution.

- 5.4 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain any provisions pertaining to customary law or to the customs of traditional communities.
