Kleurlinge leef as blankes: "Vyfduisend Kleurling-'emigrante' leef as blankes in Johannesburg, het dr. O.D. Wolheim, hoof van Cafda, gister op 'n noenmaal van die Rotariërs in Johannesburg verklaar," staan op die voorblad. "Dr. Wolheim het gesê dat Kleurlinge al lank van Kaapstad na Johannesburg gekom het met die doel om nie hul bloedverwante in verleentheid te stel nie en om nie deur hulle in verleentheid gebring te word nie. Weens die Bevolkingsregistrasiewet is dit teenswoordig nie so maklik 'om die lyn oor te steek' nie, maar dit gebeur nog en die proses sal waarskynlik voortgesit word.

"Die mense in die Transvaal weet nie hoe na die Kleurling aan die blanke staan nie en hoe min verskil daar is tussen die voorkoms van blankes en Kleurlinge nie. Buite Kaapstad is dit bykans onmoontlik om tussen blankes en Kleurlinge te onderskei,' het dr. Wolheim gesê."

Memorandum of the African National Congress on Unity, Non-Racialism and Democracy submitted to the President of the Republic of South Africa, His Excellency Jacob Zuma

19 February 2016
Union Buildings, Tshwane

We, the people of South Africa, black and white, representing civil society, faith based groups, non-governmental and community based organisations, the creative industries, the business fraternity and organised labour, have gathered today in defence of our hard won constitutional democracy and the fundamental human rights it bestows upon all citizens of our land.

In this march for unity, non-racialism and democracy, we stand on the shoulders of giants who over centuries of subjugation and oppression, committed their lives to the building of a South Africa that would be united, non-racial, non-sexist, democratic and prosperous in character.

We reaffirm the clarion call made by our people at the Congress of the People in Kliptown in 1955 that “South Africa belongs to all who live in it, black and white” and that “our country will never be prosperous or free until all our people live in brotherhood, enjoying equal rights and opportunities”.

Many freedom fighters, young and old, black and white, laid down their lives for the realisation of the vision where in South Africa no man or woman would be discriminated against on the basis of their race, gender or creed.

With the dawn of democracy, South Africans in their overwhelming majority, adopted the Constitution of the Republic – a platform for co-existence and a cornerstone and bedrock of our democracy.

In the Bill of Rights, Chapter Two of the Constitution, we committed ourselves to the inalienable rights to equality, social justice and human dignity.

As we gather here today, 20 years since the Icon of our Struggle and Father of our Nation, Comrade Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela, signed the Constitution into law, we as peace loving South Africans, remain resolute and united in our diversity to the ongoing transformation of our nation based on the ideals that so many that came before us laid down their lives for.

Our national flag and national anthem, Nkosi Sikelela iAfrika, remain everlasting symbols of our commitment to the unity on which this country is founded. We stand ready to jealously guard and promote their sanctity. We also recognise and appreciate the role that each individual South African has to play in realising our aspiration of a common nationhood.

It is very disturbing therefore that in recent times, 21 years after our democratic breakthrough, South Africa has witnessed the resurgences of incidences of racism, often disguised as freedom of speech.

It is of deep concern that within our society there remain those individuals who defend, justify, harbour and turn a blind eye to the demon of racism.

President Oliver Tambo decried racism as one of the great evils of our time. He said, "it bedevils human relations between individuals, within and between nations, and across continents. It brutalises entire peoples, destroys persons, warps the process of thought and injects into human society a foul air of tension, mutual antagonism and hatred".

Racism and related intolerances weaken our fragile social fabric and undermine social cohesion; benefitting only those who want to reverse the gains of our democracy and return our nation to a past fraught with hatred, distrust and disunity amongst the people.

The African National Congress and its democratic allies gathered in this march, calls on all sectors of society to rally behind the vision of a South Africa as enshrined in the Freedom Charter.

Peace loving South Africans must joins hands, across our many divides, to continue building a nation united in its diversity.

As a people, we must resist and reject racists, racist organisations and apologists for racism.

We call on the South African government to enact and strengthen laws that protect and promote the constitutional values of human dignity and equality by criminalising racism in all its manifestations.

Working together with all sectors of society, the democratic government must lead in fostering social cohesion and ensuring the respect, protection, promotion and fulfillment of the rights contained in the Bill of Rights.

As South Africans, we must develop a future generation, from amongst our youth and children, that upholds the Constitution and in particular non-racialism as a means to build a South African nation.

The African National Congress calls upon all South Africans and all South African national groups to deepen democracy by embracing Unity as a cornerstone for a better South Africa.

Dear Ms. Flandorp

RE: EFF Western Cape Urges the Department of Education in the Western Cape to Stop the Disciplinary Action Against Mr Snyman As It Has No Basis

It has come to the urgent attention of the EFF Western Cape that your Department plans to subject Mr. Snyman to a disciplinary process for identifying himself as African. We would like to remind you of the fact that under the laws of the Republic of South African, Mr Snyman has the right to identify himself as African if he feels uncomfortable with being identified as coloured.

We would also like to remind you of the negative psychological ramifications of apartheid classifications on people's lives today. The Department of Education in the Western Cape is acting unethically and against the restorative spirit of the constitution for expecting himself to superimpose a classification that violates his right to self-identification. We also wish to remind you of the fact that your actions perpetuate apartheid mentality that our post-apartheid South Africa is trying to move away from and for that your action against Mr. Snyman has no basis but an attempt to undermine his human dignity. We implore you to stop this disciplinary action against Mr. Snyman with immediate effect

Regards Commissar Melikhaya Xego

(EFF Western Cape Provincial Chairperson (EFF Party Leader WC Provincial Parliament))
