PROFILES FOR TOP TEN NATIONAL CANDIDATES

1. PATRICIA DE LILLE

Patricia de Lille, the president of the Independent Democrats, has been active in politics for a quarter of a century. She is known for her role as a trade unionist in the struggle and as the initial whistle-blower on the infamous arms-deal corruption.

In 1988 she was elected vice-president of the National Council of Trade Unions. She became an MP in 1994 and went on to chair the parliamentary committee on transport until 1999. On March 26 2003 she formed the Independent Democrats, which won national and provincial seats in the 2004 elections, becoming the first woman since freedom to do so.

De Lille has been the recipient of numerous awards including being voted Woman of the Year by Rapport/City Press and one of the Top 5 Women in Government and Government Agencies, and has been recognised as a leading HIV/Aids activist by an international organisation. She is a former chancellor of the Durban Institute of Technology, an Honorary Colonel in the SANDF and serves on the boards of the African Monitor, the Helen Suzman Foundation and the Nelson Mandela Children's Fund.

She has been described by Nelson Mandela as "a strong, principled woman" and his "favourite opposition politician".

2. HANIFF HOOSEN

The IDs' Secretary-General and MP, Haniff Hoosen, hails from Durban and studied for a B Proc degree in Law.

In September 2005 Hoosen joined the Independent Democrats and was soon after appointed as the IDs' Election Campaign Manager in March 2006. He also served as an ID Councillor on the Durban Metro Council in 2006.

After becoming a member of the IDs' National Executive Committee, Hoosen was elected as the IDs' Secretary General in 2007 where after he was elected to National Parliament in 2008. Hoosen currently serves on the Education and Safety & Security portfolio committees. He is also the former Chairperson of the Independent Democrats Councillors Forum.

3. ARI SEIRLIS

Ari Seirlis is the National Director of the QuadPara Association of South Africa and has held the position since 2001. The Association strives to prevent spinal cord injury, as well as protect and promote the interests of people with mobility impairments. Ari Seirlis matriculated at Hilton College and studied at UCT and completed an IMM at the Natal Technikon. Ari broke his neck in a car accident in 1985 which rendered him a quadriplegic. After 6 months of Hospitalization and Rehabilitation, he returned to complete his studies, and thereafter started his own business. Ari has been involved in a variety of organizations across South Africa, including as the Vice-President of The Association for Persons with Physical Disabilities, a Management Member of SPINAL REHAB CENTRE (Phoenix), Chairman of AMASONDO (private suite for the disabled at Kings Park) and Executive Management of Quadriplegic Association of Kwazulu-Natal.

4. JOE MCGLUWA

Joe Mcgluwa, the National Organiser of the Independent Democrats, who has overseen the rapid growth of the party by setting up constituency offices country-wide, was born in Johannesburg and grew up in Klerksdorp in the 1960s and 1970s.

His roles as national organizer include the assessment and verification of party structures, undertaking regular performance audits of all constituency offices throughout the country and arranging programmes of visits to all provinces by the party President. In addition, he supervises all constituency offices and organizers of the party.

Mcgluwa has served as a Councillor in the Cape Town Metropolitan Municipality since 2006 and was recently appointed as a Member of Parliament in the NCOP.

5. KHOSI MNCEDANE

Her experience in politics led delegates at the Gauteng inaugural provincial conference to elect Nomakhosazana Mncedane to the chair of ID Women's Agenda in the province. Born in the Eastern Cape on the 25th May 1952, she went to train as a correctional officer at the Baviaanspoort training college in 1974.

It was life as a correctional officer that led her into the terrain of politics when she and others founded the Police and Prisons Civil Rights Union (Popcru) in 1992. She climbed the ladder within the correctional services department to the assistant directorship, a post she resigned in 2004. Mncedane obtained a Diploma in Correctional Services Management as well as Diploma in Human Resources Management whilst in the employment of the Department.

Mncedane was a member of the Gauteng legislature when she joined the ID in 2007. Mncedane is in the process of building strong ID branches in Pretoria.

6. AGNES TSAMAI

The deputy president of the Independent Democrats has been involved in politics for most of her life. She grew up in the volatile 1960s and 70s and attended Orlando High School in Soweto. After matriculating in 1971, she trained as a nurse but remained actively involved in numerous community projects.

Tsamai was active in politics during the apartheid years and says that she devoted much of her time to politics as it was the only genuine way one could contribute to society when she grew up. In 2004, she joined the ID and soon became a councillor and put her years of experience in community service to good use.

7. STEVEN OTTER

Steven Otter has served as the National Media Officer for the Independent Democrats for more than two years. He was born in Johannesburg and grew up in the Eastern Cape. He received a diploma in journalism from Peninsula Technikon and worked as a journalist, photographer and sub-editor before joining the Independent Democrats. Otter is the author of the book, 'Khayelitsha - uMlungu in a Township' and has presented part of a writing programme to juvenile prisoners at Pollsmoor Prison.

He is passionate about transformation, human development and ending all forms of racism.

8. BRETT HERRON

Born and raised in Durban, KZN, Brett is a Graduate of the University of Natal and holds a BA and LL.B degree. Prior to being admitted as an Attorney in 1994, Brett did his articles of clerkship in Durban. He then practised as an attorney until the beginning of 1998 before moving to New York City where lived and worked until the end of 2001 when returned to South Africa. He then became involved in legal education by acquiring the South African Law School in 2002, and is currently the Director the school, one of the few private law school's in South Africa that is fully accredited. Brett has been an ID member for several years, before being elected Policy Convenor for the Cape Town Metro District Executive Committee in July 2008.

9. AUBREY TSHALATA

Aubrey Tshalata is the ID Provincial Elections Coordinator for Kwazulu-Natal. He is currently the National General Secretary of the National Federation for the Building Industry (NAFBI), which has 6 400 members across the country. Tshalata has served as the General Secretary of NAFBIOC and has worked at management level for a variety of companies and is the Managing Director of the Palcard Group. He has sat on a number of Government Advisory Councils, including the Advisory Council on Health and Safety and the Employment Conditions Commission, which determines conditions of employment in a number of sectors.

Tshalata holds a BA in Psychology (University of Zululand) and a post graduate degree in employment law and social security (UCT). He received certificates for Programme Management Development (PMD) and the Mastering Strategy Executive Programme from the University of Pretoria and the Gordon Institute of Business Science. He also holds a certificate in International Labour Migration from the International Labour Organisation at the Turin Centre, in Italy.

10. XANTHEA LIMBERG

Xanthea Tyrrell Limberg is currently a Politics student at the University of Cape Town, majoring in Public Policy and Administration. She is an active member of YIDSO at the UCT campus, and also works as an intern for the Independent Democrats at their Head Office in Parliament. This young woman has been passionate about politics since the age of 15 years old and has been part of the ID since the age of seventeen. According to Xanthea her ultimate objective in life, wherever she goes, is to inspire the youth of South Africa, to become more involved and aware of the role politics plays in building our nation.
