All collective agreements concluded at the Public Service Coordinating Bargaining Council (PSCBC) are deemed to be determinations made by the Minister in terms of Section 3(5) of the Public Service Act and the Minister is empowered further to issue directives to elucidate or supplement such determinations.

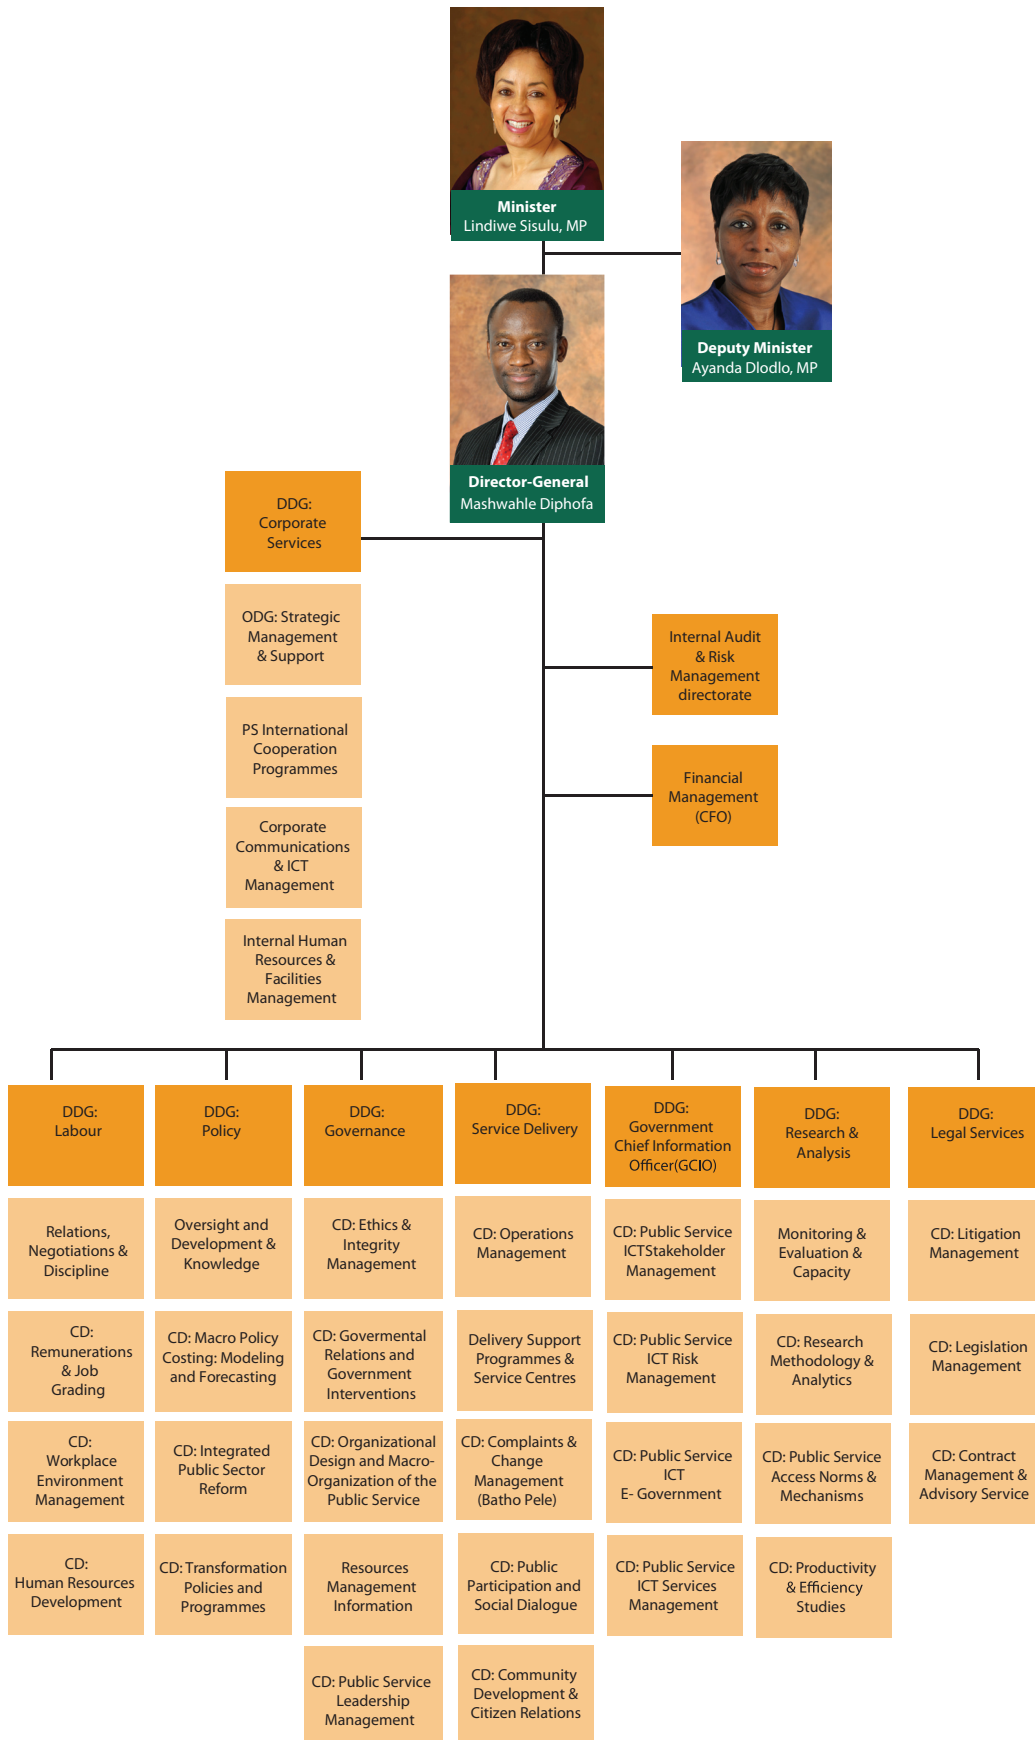

CONSTITUTIONAL MANDATE

According to Chapter 10 (s 195[1]) of the Constitution of the Republic, Public Administration must be governed by the democratic values and principles enshrined in the constitution, including the following principles:

- 1) A high standard of professional ethics must be promoted and maintained;
- 2) Efficient, economic and effective use of resources must be promoted;
- 3) Public administration must be development-oriented;
- 4) Services must be provided impartially, fairly, equitably and without bias;

- 9) Public administration must be broadly representative of the South African people, with employment and personnel management practices based on ability, objectivity, fairness, and the need to redress the imbalances of the past to achieve broad representation.

The 'essence' of these principles was endorsed through the adoption of what has become known as the Batho Pele principles.

FOREWORD BY MINISTER

Minister Lindiwe Sisulu

When we arrived at the Department in June 2012 we found the annual wage negotiations deadlocked. In the quickest possible time we had to understand the mandate and major thrust of the Department. A few months later the National Development Plan was released. The National Development Plan elaborated on some of the challenges that we were beginning to realise and therefore became our compass as we navigated our complex path.

Fundamental in the diagnosis of the National Development Plan was the assertion that the public service was key in delivering on our development objectives and that the public service had to reposition itself to assume this momentous responsibility. The 2013/14 period under review has been committed to giving effect to recommendations of the 2030 National Development Plan, especially that of creating a capable, efficient, effective, responsive and accountable public service.

On our first day in the Portfolio of Public Service and Administration, we became involved in resuscitating the stalled wage negotiations. In order to achieve the National Development Plan's objectives for the Department and indeed the entire public service, we had to ensure that there was stability. Key to this was ensuring that we put an end to the annual lengthy disruptive wage negotiations. We undertook the difficult wage negotiations conscious of the financial constraints and the complexities brought about by non-delivery of commitments made that each side.

The result was a resounding success in that we had a three year agreement which brought about peace and stability in the public sector. The agreement covers, amongst others, the State's commitment to invest in public servants through skilling and empowerment to ensure higher productivity in the public service, review of remuneration for public servants and salary increments for 2012/13, 2013/14 and 2014/15.

Implementing the elements of this historic agreement is continuous work, as all stakeholders need to deliver on the commitments contained in the Service Charter that resulted from the multi-year agreement. The Service Charter is a partnership between government and Labour. The Service Charter seeks to improve service delivery programmes, reinforce the partners commitment to service delivery improvement for the benefit of all citizens and ensure an effective, efficient and responsive public service. The launch of the Charter marks a new era where collective bargaining partners have jointly pledged to improve the quality of service delivery.

The momentous multi-year wage settlement is coming to an end. This experience proves that there is no need for various sectors of society to always be at loggerheads. The Department will soon be starting new negotiations and we hope that they will be as fruitful and engaging as we have had in the past.

Our key focus turned to a problem that has always faced the Department, the entire public service and indeed the government since 2002. The challenge was to address what Chapter 10 of the Constitution envisaged in a single public administration; to correctly interpret the provisions of that section; and to make those provisions applicable throughout the public administration. The Public Administration and Management Bill was crafted to do just this.

The Public Administration and Management Bill speaks directly to the basic values and principles governing the public administration contained in Chapter 10 of our Constitution. The Public Administration and Management Bill seeks to address: a) public administration as one entity, b) promotion and maintenance of high standard of professional ethics, c) skilling and multi skilling of members of public administration, d) deployment of human resources across the three spheres of government, e) efficient, economic and effective use of resources, and, f) a public administration that is development-oriented and accountable, amongst other principles. These principles must apply to administration in every sphere of government.

The Public Administration and Management Bill is a framework legislation that was developed following extensive public consultation. It is a culmination of the reforms we announced on assumption of office as the Ministry for Public Service and Administration. The reforms are geared towards building our public service and are absolutely essential for good governance. In moving forward the Department will need to have the necessary regulations and infrastructure to be put into place to support the Bill when assented into an Act.

We acknowledge the pivotal role played by Members of the Select Committee for Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs and the Portfolio Committee on Public Service and Administration. The passing of the Public Administration and Management Bill by Parliament brings us a step closer to achieving the objective of a clean and accountable government. It compliments efforts aimed at the transformation of the public service to implement the National Development Plan. Today, the very fundamental basis for very good governance exists.

The Department convened the inaugural Government Leadership Summit during which the Acting President Kgalema Motlanthe addressed the top administrative leadership of the public service about government's vision of the vital role they play in ensuring that we improve the living conditions of South Africans and in building a capable and developmental state. For the first time, the Accounting Officers from the three spheres of government and some members of the National Executive met to deliberate on matters affecting service delivery with a single view of effecting solutions to improve service delivery.

In our quest to professionalise the public service, we launched the Batho Pele Call Centre Number (0860 428 392) simultaneously with the Service Charter. By calling the Batho Pele Call Centre, the public will be able to communicate directly with the public service on any experience they have had or to request assistance.

We launched the National School of Government after the President proclaimed PALAMA to be the National School of Government. The National School of Government will provide training and development programmes that emphasise commitment to excellence in the provision of quality services to all citizens. The School will impact on improved performance of the public sector and its capacity to serve the public interest. To instill in public servants the spirit of patriotism and responsiveness to the work demands of government will be a steady focus of the National School of Government. The School will serve as the central pillar in professionalising the public service for higher productivity.

Once fully developed, the National School of Government will become the principal provider of management and professional training and development for all levels of the public service. It is envisaged that the School will also serve as an incubator of ideas and a catalyst for reform and modernisation of the public service. To this end, the National School of Government, working with and in collaboration with similar institutions, would serve as a repository and disseminator of best international experience and practice in public service.

The various Auditor-General reports have identified non-compliance by government departments to adhere to statutes, regulations and other prescripts applicable in the public service. The Office of Compliance and Standards was established to monitor compliance to public service regulatory frameworks by government departments. The Office will also develop service standards and remedial measures for intervention where necessary. The Office of Standards and Compliance has done work in the support of interventions in the North West and Limpopo Provinces.

We hosted the first ever National Annual Batho Pele Excellence Awards. The purpose of these annual awards is to recognise excellence in the public service, acknowledge and encourage it and entrench the culture of professionalisation. The very successful awards comprised ten categories, with each category having gold, silver and bronze winners.

In the State of the Nation Address, the President announced the establishment of a Presidential Remuneration Commission which will investigate the appropriateness of the remuneration and conditions of service provided by the State to all its employees.

Government as the employer together with the Public Service Trade Unions, have agreed to the introduction of the Government Housing scheme to promote home ownership among the public servants. The draft policy for the Government Employee Housing Scheme, the one outstanding item that the PSCBC was concerned about from the wage agreement reached in 2011, has been completed and tabled at the PSCBC.

All senior managers in the public service are required to disclose their financial interests using the e-Disclosure system. This initiative is part of the integrity programme implemented by government to entrench the principle of clean government. The e-Disclosure system, done in partnership with SITA, is being rolled out to all national and provincial departments and will improve the compliance rate regarding disclosure of financial interests.

During this period the Protocol for recruitment and filling of advertised posts of Deputy-Directors General and Heads of Departments has been approved by the Cabinet and is being implemented. We are pleased that the Public Service Integrity Management Framework has also been approved and that the Department is briefing the Provinces.

The review of the Handbook for Members of the Executive and Presiding Officers has been completed and is to be tabled before the Cabinet.

During the period under review South Africa presented its 3rd country progress report on the implementation of the National Programme of Action to the African Union Summit of Heads of States and Government of APRM participating countries in Addis Ababa. The Department worked tirelessly with the APRM National Governing Council to produce a truly inclusive and comprehensive report on the implementation of South Africa's APRM Programme of Action. I must congratulate the provinces on the successful public consultations held by the Provincial Governing Councils. The inputs received from all corners of the country have been invaluable to government. The report is a product of civil society, business sector, traditional and religious leaders as well as national, provincial and local government, and we are all equal partners in this arrangement. The 3rd country progress report will reflect our collective view.

During the review period, South Africa's ascension to the African Charter on Values and Principles of Public Service and Administration have been approved by the Cabinet and ratified by Parliament.

In the course of our work we have received exceptional support from the business sector, civic organisations, academia and labour, particularly in the launch of the Service Charter and guiding the Public Administration and Management Bill through Parliament. Our appreciation is extended to the Members of Parliament for their thoughtful oversight and support of our work. We also acknowledge the role of the media in checking on our progress and coming to the various media briefings we held.

I would like to thank Deputy Minister Ayanda Dlodlo for her support and in particular the leadership provided to the Community Development Workers programme and Thusong Service Centres. To the officials of the Department, we extend our gratitude.

In conclusion, as directed by the delivery agreement with the President and addressing the recommendations of the National Development Plan, we have put in place those elements to make a better government and improve the functioning of the State. With the passing of the Public Administration Management Bill and other reforms we completed during the past 21 months, we are able to say that ours is very clearly a significant and decisive contribution to building an effective, efficient and ethical public service and state.

DEPUTY MINISTER'S STATEMENT

Deputy Minister Ayanda Dlodlo

This annual report coincides with the end of term for the fourth administration as well as our 20 years anniversary of a democratic dispensation. It therefore provides us with an opportunity to reflect on the achievements against the targets we had set for ourselves at the beginning of the fourth term as well as generally on our achievements over the past 20 years. It forms part of the end of term initiatives aimed at consolidating the accomplishments whilst providing a guide for the incoming executive on possible areas of priority for the public service into the fifth term and future.

My views of the public service and its role have always been influenced by the principles of the Public Administration stated in Chapter 10 of the South African Constitution, which calls for a public service that “must loyally execute the lawful policies of the government of the day”. As such, the public service is the most important vehicle for achieving the developmental agenda of any term. Whilst this statement seems pretty simple, I have since appreciated the complex and dynamic process of governance, which makes the work of this Ministry both challenging and exciting.

Throughout my term, I have often wondered if we have clearly articulated our role as the Ministry for Public Service and Administration (MPSA). This and other questions have been on my mind especially in the context of the newly created ministries at the centre of government. Specifically, what are our shared responsibilities with these Ministries? This has led us to re-assess our relevance and our mandate.

The National Development Plan has further compelled us to re-assess how we do things. This overall process of self appraisal resulted in the re-affirmation of the core function of the Ministry for Public Service and Administration which is to deliver “well run and effectively coordinated state institutions staffed by skill public servants who are committed to the public good and capable of delivering consistently high-quality services for all South Africans”. This responsibility places the public service as the focal point for implementing the national development agenda as articulated in Vision 2030.

Given this well-articulated mandate, my pre-occupation for the term has been to improve the strategic orientation in the programmes that support the work of the Ministry. This I have done by focusing on what I term the “strategic enablers”. These I consider essential for the coherent and effective functioning of the Ministry. These areas of work, though supportive, are crucial to the work of the public service. These enablers include among others; Citizen Participation, Citizen Access, Accountability, International Relations and Monitoring and Evaluation.

Even in the implementation of these supportive programmes, the central role of the MPSA is further demonstrated and expressed in practical terms. For instance, both the Community Development Workers (CDWs) and Open Government Partnership (OGP) programmes advance the central vision of entrenching democratic values and ensuring transparency in governance.

The Africa Peer Review Mechanism (APRM) on the other hand enables the public service to work towards a better Africa and better world. The Centre for Public Service Innovation (CPSI) has an essential mandate of ensuring the development of innovative ideas towards accelerated delivery across the public service. Lastly, our high performing Government Employees Medical Aid Scheme (GEMS) is essential as it ensures access to health services by all our public servants.

I am very proud of some of the achievements that we have made in these programmes for the period under review and want to highlight a few achievements below.

Open Government Partnership

The Open Government Partnership as a new global initiative for transparency and openness in the country has made tremendous strides in a very short period of time. We managed to undertake South Africa's government self-assessment progress report in April 2013. This was followed immediately by the Independent Review Mechanism (IRM).

We undertook an extensive and a rigorous consultation process so as to strategically obtain inputs to develop the Second Country Action Plan. The Second Country Action Plan was developed and submitted at the OGP London Summit in October/November 2013 where the Deputy also Minister chaired the African Regional Caucus.

This was preceded by the One Thousand Voices movement event hosted on 18 November 2013 which was a success in launching South Africa's Second National Country Action Plan and in effectively engaging with civil society and citizens at large about issue raised around the Second Country Action Plan.

Community Development Workers

I consider the Community Development Workers Programme to be the most innovative programme and most viable option for our government to convey information on its programmes and processes to our citizens and more importantly, to bring government closer to the people.

I am pleased that between the months of April and July 2013, we were successful in hosting a series of workshops across the country reaching six provinces. These workshops provided CDWs with information on government programmes and skills to communicate this information to communities in a professional and accessible manner.

At the beginning of my term, I observed that one of the key challenges for the CDW programme has been the location of the CDWs at a provincial level. In this regard, I consulted extensively with the relevant stakeholders at national and provincial levels. This resulted in a recommendation that the CDWs be placed in the Premiers' office in all provinces with the DPSA being the national custodian of the programme.

This has largely been accepted by provinces with an exception of the Western Cape, it is my hope that this matter will be further pursued in the 5th term to ensure the institutionalisation of the CDW programme.

It is my sincere wish that as we move into the 5th term, the CDWs will play a key role in harnessing greater public participation and this can be achieved using the OGP as a mechanism to achieve this goal.

Centre for Public Service Innovation

The Centre for Public Service Innovation (CPSI) has played a vital role in championing the development of innovation, with the mandate to create, establish, develop and encourage an environment in which innovation is encouraged, rewarded and mainstreamed.

During the period 2010-2013, CPSI has played a role in the introduction of sustainable innovations such as the visually impaired teachers' device, Multi-Media Innovation Centre, Honeydew Police CCTV/Nerve centre, Helen Joseph Hospital Energy Efficiency Project and the Auxiliary Nurses training programme in Limpopo. CPSI has also used various mechanisms such as the South African Public Sector Innovation Journal, Conferences, United Nations Public Administration Network Portal, in the sharing of technological innovations and programmes. The CPSI awards, which are held annually, have been a great mechanism in unearthing new innovations which are sustainable and can be replicated.

In its innovation projects, CPSI partners with other organizations/companies that fund the projects. The current funding arrangement of the CPSI has hindered the procurement of resources which enabled the CPSI to explore and implement the programmes. I sincerely hope that in the 5th term, the focus will be in creating CPSI's financial independence so that this organisation is able to take innovation to higher levels.

Government Employees Medical Schemes

In 2013, GEMS once again won the Ask Afrika Orange Index Award, with the scheme being voted the best in the medical scheme category and obtaining 3rd position overall in 2013. The scheme has enjoyed a steady increase in membership with more than 54% of GEMS members who did not previously access any medical scheme.

GEMS has continued to promote BBBEE whereby contracts of less than R200 000.00 have been given to Exempted Micro Enterprises (EME) with a turnover of less than R5 million, contracts of more than R200 000.00 have been given to EME with turnover of more than R5 million. Service Provider network contracts have been given to Level 2 and Level 3 contributor.

As the public service entity, I envisage that GEMS will play a bigger role in supporting the process of the National Health Insurance going into the future.

In conclusion, I am convinced that in the 4th term we have built a solid foundation which we can build on and advance in the 5th term of government. It would be inappropriate not to mention the potential positive spin-offs that will come with the integration of Thusong Centre Programme into the MPSA in the new term. This is a good project that will only consolidate our efforts in building trust between citizens and their government because we will be much closer to hear and understand better the needs of our people. Lastly to be an employer of choice, we must urgently implement the government Employees Housing Scheme, this will go a long way to boost the morale and motivate our employees to higher productivity.

REPORT OF THE ACCOUNTING OFFICER

Mr Mashwahle Diphofa

It gives me great pleasure to submit the DPSA's Annual Report for the 2013/14 financial year. The report coincides with the country's celebration of 20 years of democracy, as well as the celebration of the fifth democratic elections.

Ours is a Public Service which has been through 20 years during which it underwent structural rationalization transformation and policy development, modernisation and focused implementation.

The recent general elections which have also been declared free and fair certainly bode well for the Public Service as they usher in yet another period for deepening policy and programme implementation under the direction and guardianship of a duly elected administration.

Looking ahead, the DPSA will consolidate its plans in a manner that seeks to take forward the implementation of the National Development Plan (NDP). In this regard, Chapters 13 and 14 of the NDP are particularly relevant to the mandate of the department as they talk directly to the creation of an enabling environment which is critical for the implementation of the rest of the actions in the National Development Plan.

Accordingly, the Department will play a key coordination and implementation role towards the creation of a stable political-administrative interface, the building and promotion of a public service that is a career of choice, the deepening of training and the retention of the necessary professional skills, the implementation of efficient and effective management and operations systems, strengthened accountability to citizens, and improved mechanisms to prevent corruption in the Public Service.

In this process, the Department will also continue to serve as a critical interface and partner for impacting on public administration in the Continent and the world, and for facilitating a meaningful sharing of good practice lessons and other relevant public administration experiences between the country and the rest of the world.

General Review of the Department

During the year under review, the Department went through a structural realignment process which saw a change in the configuration of its Branches, increasing them from six to eight. The main rationale behind the realignment was to further sharpen the focus of the Department in a manner that better addresses our mandate and improves our effectiveness. Therefore, the Department is currently organised according to the following eight branches, namely: Corporate Services, Labour, Governance, Service Delivery, Policy, Government Chief Information Office, Research and Analysis, and Legal Services. These changes took effect towards the end of the financial year and it can thus be expected that some of the outstanding consolidation work will happen in the early part of the 2014/15 financial year.

Major projects undertaken or completed during the 2013/14 financial year

The following projects and interventions were implemented as part of Minister Lindiwe Sisulu's priority interventions and the Delivery Agreement on Outcome 12.

Public Administration and Management (PAM) Bill

The Public Administration and Management Bill (PAM Bill) of 2013 seeks to provide for the organisation, management, functioning and personnel related matters in administration in the three spheres of government and for related matters.

The Bill seeks to, amongst others:

- provide for the promotion of basic values and principles referred to in section 195(1) of the Constitution in the public administration;
- provide for the transfer and secondment of employees in the public administration;
- regulate the prohibition of employees to conduct business with the State;
- regulate the candidature of employees during an election;
- provide for anti-corruption measures which includes the establishment of an Anti-corruption Bureau;
- inculcate a culture of compliance by institutions and employees within the public administration by providing for the establishment of the Office of Standards and Compliance; and
- regulate capacity development and training within the public administration by providing for the School of Government.

The PAM Bill was passed by majority vote in the National Assembly and referred to the President for his assent. Once promulgated, it is envisaged that the Act will be implemented in phases which will include the development of the regulations, norms and standards.

To give effect to the above mentioned, the Minister for Public Service and Administration has established the National School of Government, the Office of Standards and Compliance and will also establish the Public Administration Ethics, Integrity and Disciplinary Technical Assistance Unit to provide technical assistance and support to institutions in all spheres of government regarding the management of ethics, integrity and disciplinary matters relating to misconduct within the public administration

Section 100 intervention framework and interventions

The Section 100 framework was developed as part of the Provincial Interventions Bill. The Bill was submitted to Minister for approval. The Department has provided service delivery improvement support to the North West departments on Organisational Development and Job Evaluation, to the Office of the Premier, Human Settlement, Local Government and Traditional Affairs as well as the five departments, namely, Education, Health, Public Works, Provincial Treasury and Roads and Transport which were under administration in the Limpopo province.

In the North West, support was provided to the departments of Economic Development, Public Works, Social Development, Education, Sports, Arts and Culture, Finance and Public Safety and Liaison in the areas of Organisational Development which included the development of a functional structure and Job Evaluation. Support was also provided on the development of a Service Delivery Model.

The organisational structures of the Office of the Premier and, Local Government and Traditional Affairs were approved by the Minister for Public Service and Administration. In the Limpopo province, support was provided in the areas of Organisational Functionality Assessment, Organisational Development and Job Evaluation. The Limpopo Intervention close-out report was submitted to the Co-ordinating Steering Committee (CSC) in January 2014.

Government Leadership Summit

The first Government Leadership Summit was successfully hosted by the Department on 3 April 2013. The Summit, which was attended by 500 senior public servants from national, provincial and local government, was aimed at providing a platform for discussions on key matters and challenges relevant to address priority issues in the Public Sector.

The Summit considered areas impacting the National Development Plan and the implications thereof on Public Administration, international perspectives on civil service reforms, issues related to monitoring and evaluation, finance as well as the oversight mandate over Government from institutions like the Public Service Commission, the Auditor-General and the Public Protector. The Government Leadership Summit provided an opportunity for senior officials to debate relevant aspects that will guide the implementation of the National Development Plan, taking into consideration the Governance initiatives as expected by the various oversight institutions.

General review of the financial affairs

Spending trends

The final appropriation for the Department for the 2013/14 financial year amounted to R829.7 million. This included transfer payments to other entities amounting to R356.4 million which represents 43% of the total budget. Compensation of employees represented 30.7% of the total budget but makes up 54% of the budget allocation for the Department of Public Service and Administration if the transfer payments to other entities are excluded. The department achieved 97.5% spending totaling the amount of R809.1 million. The R20.6 million under spent calculates to 2.5%. The Department overspent the allocated budget to Programme 1: Administration by R8.8 million which has been indicated as unauthorised expenditure in terms of the overspending of a main division within a Vote.

Total spending on compensation of employees calculated to R241.5 million with an average spending per month of R20 million. The amount unspent on compensation of employees is R13.4 million and is due to a turnover rate of 5% and a vacancy rate of 10.6%. Spending on goods and services totalled R200.8 million leaving R7 million unspent.

The major contribution to the under spending is as follows;

Programme 3: Labour Relations and Remuneration Management R21.3 million

Included in the under spending is an amount of R10.9 million that was allocated to the Public Service Remuneration Review Commission which was ring fenced and could not be utilised for any other purpose. This under spending is made up of an amount of R6.4 million for compensation of employees and R4.5 million for goods and services.

The rest of the under spending relates to projects such as the Government Employee Housing Scheme project and the project on to the backlog on disciplinary cases. In both cases the projects proceeded slower than anticipated. R5.2 million allocated for compensation of employees in the programme was also not utilised due to a vacancy rate of 16%.

Programme 4: Public Service Information and Communication Technology Management R7.6 million

An amount of R5.8 million that was budgeted to pay for SITA services at Thusong Service Centres was not spent due to a dispute on the rendering of the services. The remaining under spending is mainly under Compensation of employees with under spending of an amount of R1.8 million due to unfilled vacancies.

Over and under spending and impact on service delivery

The over expenditure in Programme 1: Administration occurred under the Sub-programme: Ministry. This over expenditure, which has also been declared as unauthorised expenditure, was due to the fact that the Minister Lindiwe Sisulu's support staff which she brought to the Department from her previous portfolio were more than what was provided for in the budget. Additional to this, she was also stationed in Cape Town which increased travel costs between Pretoria and Cape Town. Also, it had an impact as many of her staff, who were considered to be session officials who had to be paid special allowances which were not previously budgeted for. The appointment of members to the two Advisory Bodies also increased expenditure.

The under spending in Programme 4: Public Service Information and Communication Technology Management did not impact negatively on the performance of the programme as the major contributor to the under spending is related to non- payment for budgeted services that was not rendered by SITA

Donor funding impact on service delivery

Canadian Government

The Department has received funding from the Canadian Government to roll out the Anti-Corruption Capacity Building programme since 2008, but the implementation of the programme commenced in 2010. The primary purpose of the project is to improve good governance in the public service through curbing corruption. The anti-corruption capacity building programme is divided into three programmes as detailed below:

Action plans to avoid recurrence

In relation to the overspending in the Ministry, the Department will ensure that the projected expenditure for 2013/14 is reviewed and reduced where possible and that funding is reprioritized to this subprogramme if so required.

The ring fenced budget allocation for the Public Service Remuneration Review Commission for 2013/14 calculates to an amount of R10 million. The Commission is convinced that the total allocation will be utilised by 31 March 2014.

The approach to rendering IT connectivity services to Thusong Service Centres is currently under review and the funding allocated for this SITA service will be utilized to put in place a more economic and reliable alternative.

Plans to address future financial challenges

During the 2014/15 MTEF process, the Department will ensure that the allocated budget is analysed and reprioritised to the major priorities if required. Cost saving measures that have already been implemented since the start of the 2013/14 financial year will be enforced and all programme and responsibility managers will be made aware of the value for money principle and encouraged to utilize their budgets as efficiently as possible.

Revenue

The Department does not charge any tariffs for services rendered. Services rendered by the Department include deployment of personnel or providing of advice and assistance in the implementation of the Public Service Act, Regulations, Frameworks, guidelines and directives. The departmental receipts for 2012/13 were generated from parking fees, interest on bursary debts and commission on insurance. Other material matters

During the 2013/14 financial year; 85 cases of irregular expenditure amounting to R2.223 million were identified. These were mainly due to non compliance to procurement procedures and exceeding the limits provided for catering in the Departmental policy for Catering and Entertainment. Although the total value of the cases increased compared to the previous year the number of cases has been reduced from 116 to 85. Twenty nine cases of irregular expenditure (26 from previous years and 1 from the year under review) were condoned by the accounting officer after conclusion of the required investigations and disciplinary action where applicable. The department continues to enhance the controls to prevent recurrence of irregular expenditure and training and information sessions will also continue.

Public Private Partnerships

The DPSA participated in its fifth year of the extended transversal contract RTG 718 PPP for the provision of fleet vehicles to the state, as savings have been derived year on year since participating therein. The transversal contract was extended on a month to month basis after November 2013 not exceeding 12 months for the conclusion of the feasibility study as well as the sourcing of a new fleet solution for Government by the National Department of Transport.

New or proposed activities

During the 2014/15 MTEF process the department will request a budget structure amendment in line with the structural organisational realignment process which was concluded late in 2012/13. It will be requested to increase the current six programmes to eight .

Supply Chain Management

During the 2013/14 financial year the Department did not receive nor conclude any unsolicited bid proposals. All Supply Chain Management processes and system are in place in the department. There is an approved Supply Chain Management policy which is fully implemented. Bid Committee structures, such as the Bid Specification Committee, Bid Evaluation Committee and the Bid Adjudication Committee are functional in line with the National Treasury guidelines on Supply Chain Management.

The role of these Committees in the procurement process is to ensure compliance in terms of Treasury prescripts as well as the departmental policies. The Department has had all Supply Chain Management Practitioners sign a code of conduct whereby, to the extent required by their position, they should declare any business, commercial and financial interests or activities undertaken for financial gain that may result in possible conflict of interest. The Department utilises procurement checklists within the Supply Chain Management environment which are aimed at preventing irregular expenditure.

The Department experienced challenges in the following areas:

Procurement delays were caused by, (1) unavailability of the chairperson of the Bid Evaluation Committee were resolved by requesting approval from the Accounting Officer to delegate powers to the Programme Managers to be able to appoint chairpersons and members of the Bid Evaluation Committee and , (2) delays in the appointment of the Panel of Accredited Health Risk Managers for the Implementation of the Policy and Procedure on Incapacity Leave and Ill- Health Retirement (PILLAR) as a result of disputes lodged in court by other affected Companies where unhappy with the Bid process. The challenge was eventually resolved by the Department, following the Court decision which demanded the Department to review its decision of appointment.

The non-compliance to, and deviations from, the normal Supply Chain Management procedures which were created by service providers registered on our database who were not responding to RFQ's (Request for Quotations). The Department has resolved the challenge by upgrading the IQUAL Supplier Database System, which had old information, and by advertising for new registration of Supplier information on the system. The new Supplier Database System is currently under implementation.

PERFORMANCE INFORMATION

AUDITOR GENERAL'S REPORT: PREDETERMINED OBJECTIVES

The department did not receive any material findings on performance information.

OVERVIEW OF DEPARTMENTAL PERFORMANCE

Service delivery environment

As a department that is strategically located to not only create an enabling policy environment for the rest of the public service, but to also support the effective implementation of such policies, the Department of Public Service and Administration is understandably expected to assume its rightful place as the lead institution in the transformation of public service delivery. Accordingly, the Department was assigned the lead role in coordinating Outcome 12, which focuses on building "An efficient, effective and development oriented public service and an empowered, fair and inclusive citizenship". In this capacity, the Department is required to facilitate and support efforts that seek to, among others, improve service delivery quality and access, human resource management and development, business processes, systems and accountability management, anti-corruption and integrity, and effective public participation.

With the introduction of the National Development Plan (NDP) 2030; the Department of Public Service and Administration is required to implement and coordinate interventions aimed at achieving an efficient, effective and development oriented public service which is an essential element of a capable and developmental state.

As described in the NDP, there continues to be unevenness in capacity that leads to uneven performance in the public service. This unevenness is attributed to a complex set of factors, including tensions in the political-administrative interface, instability of the administrative leadership, skills deficits, insufficient attention to the role of the state in reproducing the skills it needs, the erosion of accountability and authority, poor organizational design and low staff morale.

To address this unevenness, there is a need to strengthen skills, enhance morale, clarify lines of accountability and build an ethos of public service. Mechanisms and structures to support departments in developing their capacity and professional ethos also need to be implemented while ensuring that department's fulfill their regulatory responsibility to improve service delivery.

To achieve the above mentioned, Chapters 13 and 14 of the NDP have identified the following sub-outcomes which must be met to achieve the vision the set out in the National Development Plan;

- 1) A stable political-administrative interface
- 2) A public service that is a career of choice
- 3) Sufficient technical and specialist professional skills
- 4) Efficient and effective management and operations systems
- 5) Procurement systems that deliver value for money
- 6) Strengthened accountability to citizens
- 7) Improved inter-departmental coordination
- 8) Reduced corruption in the public service

In order to effectively implement on the above mentioned sub-outcomes the department's capacity will have to be significantly enhanced. The cooperation and collaboration with the other centre of government departments such as the National Treasury and Department of Performance Monitoring and Evaluation (DPME) in the Presidency will also be critical.

Increasingly, the Department is also expected to be hands-on in practical interventions that seek to support the turnaround of selected departments. While this role provides DPSA with an invaluable opportunity to directly impact on the effective functioning of these departments, it tends to be resource-intensive.

The nature and extent of the role of the Department at a continental and international level also continues to expand, as evidenced by work on the African Peer Review Mechanism, Continental Governance and Public Administration, the Open Government Partnership and in the Post-Conflict Reconstruction and Development interventions in selected countries in the Continent.

As policy department, the DPSA does not offer services directly to citizens but provides the enabling environment to ensure that the departments that delivery service are properly capacitated to do so. In this regard, the main beneficiaries of the Department's services are national and provincial departments. Some of the challenges experienced by the Department in executing its mandate relate to the following:

- The general and pervasive non-compliance with the Public Service Act and Regulations;
- Limited skills and capacities to implement the public service regulations and policies; and
- Lack of cooperation where the Department's interventions are implemented.

The decentralised Human Resources function also means that the Department is limited in ensuring the required changes and improvements with regards to human resources management in the Public Service are implemented

To address the above mentioned challenges, the Department has, in partnership with the Auditor-General and the Department of Performance Monitoring and Evaluation (DPME) MPAT, identified key indicators in the areas of human resources development, ICT, Diversity Management and Employee Health Management as additional areas also to be audited and assessed to ensure that compliance levels are improved.

Through the implementation of the Public Administration and Management Act, once passed, the Department will also be able to enforce compliance in the areas of compliance to Public Service Regulation, Ethics and Integrity as well but conducting regular audits as well as issuing norms and standards.

ORGANISATIONAL ENVIRONMENT

The Minister for Public Service and Administration, Lindiwe Sisulu, MP, identified a need for the Department to undergo a review of its existing organisational structure to ensure that it is properly aligned to deliver on the priorities articulated in the National Development Plan.

To this end, the Department has undergone a process of re-alignment which has seen an introduction of new functions in the areas of policy development, legal services and research and analysis. The implementation of these alignments will evolve throughout the 2014/15 financial year, culminating in full implementation in the next MTSF cycle.

KEY POLICY DEVELOPMENTS AND LEGISLATIVE CHANGES

The Public Administration and Management Bill has been passed by Parliament and referred to the President for assent. Once passed into an Act, the implementation of the Public Administration Management Bill will impact the DPSA in the following manner:

1. It will bring a paradigm shift from serving the Public Service (National and Provincial Government) to servicing Public Administration (National, Provincial and Local Government) which will mean that the staff of DPSA will have to start to learn how Local Government function.
2. The Department's role in the central management of discipline will be elevated by making provision in the law for the establishment of the Ethics, Internality and Disciplinary Technical Assistance Unit. The institutions of Public Administration at National, Provincial and Local Government will put pressure on the unit to support them in dealing with backlogs of disciplinary cases.

3. The Office of Standards and Compliance will, through their monitoring and evaluation of the implementation of Public Administration legislation and Policies, identify weakness that will require proactive intervention by the DPSA in terms of legislative/policy review and active support to institutions.
4. The prohibition of public service employee from doing business with the State and the requirements for all employees to declare their financial interests and those of their spouses or person leaving with them, will require the establishment of a uniform management and monitoring system for these legislative requirements in order to yield the expected outcome of effectively dealing with public administration corruption.
5. To effectively support the implementation of the Bill, the Department's capacity will need to be significantly enhanced.

STRATEGIC OUTCOME ORIENTED GOALS

Strategic Outcome-Oriented Goal 1: an efficient and effective Public Service and Administration

Areas of duplication, weaknesses and wastage within the public service and administration are identified and appropriate interventions to address these are implemented which will include: ensuring that the organisational structures of departments are rationalised and aligned to their mandates, improving the effective management of discipline and improving the implementation of resolutions signed with labour through the PSCBC collective agreements.

Interventions that promote and support the health, wellness and positive morale of public servants are implemented and meaningful platforms are created and institutionalized to enable citizens to partake in and influence government's policies with regard to how public services are delivered to them.

Strategic Outcome-Oriented Goal 2: A Capable, Equitable and Professional Public Service and Administration

Measures to professionalise the public service are introduced which will include, amongst others, compulsory training programmes and the review and enhancement appointment procedures for senior managers.

Strategic Outcome-Oriented Goal 3: Appropriate legislative frameworks for Public Service and Administration

An enabling environment for effective public administration is strengthened by reviewing existing legislation and introducing new legislative frameworks for public service and administration.

Strategic Outcome-Oriented Goal 4: An ethical and clean Public Service and Administration

A corruption-free public administration is promoted through the implementation of practical interventions to prevent, detect and combat corruption and promote the ethical behavior of public servants is re-enforced through improving compliance to public administration prescripts and regulations.

Strategic Outcome-Oriented Goal 5: Improved public administration in Africa and Internationally

The Department contributes towards improved public service and administration in Africa and internationally through entering into mutually beneficial partnerships, dialogue and domestication of best practice.

During the 2010/14 financial years, the Department also achieved the following against its planned targets;

Outcome 12 Delivery Agreement

The DPSA was a lead department on the coordination, implementation and reporting on the Delivery Agreement for Outcome 12: An efficient, effective and development oriented public service during the medium-term period. As a result of this responsibility, the Department played a key role in ensuring that there was an integrated planning, coordination and implementation of the priorities of government through the Governance and Administration structures. The Department also played a role in making sure that government departments are accountable to the Executive on the implementation of government priorities through quarterly progress reports that served before the Ministerial Cluster meetings on Governance and Administration, Cabinet Committee as well as Cabinet.

As a result of the implementation of the Delivery Agreement for Outcome 12, various improvements are noticeable in government which include the following;

- As at 31 January 2014, the average vacancy rate in the Public Service was reduced to 9.56% and the median time to fill vacant posts during the period 1 January 2013 to 31 December 2013 was reduced to 4.9 months by 31 March 2014. The vacancy rate and time to fill posts have largely stabilised and are not expected to improve further in the short term.
- The average number of days taken to resolve disciplinary cases remained below the target at 172 days. The target as at 31 March 2014 was 90 days.
- The percentage of Heads of Department whose performance agreements have been filed with the Public Service Commission on time (June) was 58 %. However, subsequent to the deadline, 72 % have filed as at the end of December 2013.
- The signing of Performance Agreements (PA's) by members of Senior Management Service (SMS), the report from PERSAL indicates that 5 950 SMS members of a total of 9 288, signed performance agreements before the due date of 31 May 2013, which translate to 64 percent compliance rate.
- The feedback rate by departments on National Anti-Corruption Hotline (NACH) cases referred by the Public Service Commission declined from 59 % in September 2013 to 54 % as at the end of December 2013. The percentage of NACH cases closed by departments have also declined from 40% to 37% as at the end of December 2013.
- The Framework on delegations principles was approved by Cabinet and six provincial Executive Council have been consulted on the framework following the Cabinet decision.
- The percentage of Senior Managers that filed their financial disclosure forms with the Public Service Commission on time was 84 %. The filing has increased 97 % as at 31 December 2013. 408 SMS members have been trained on the system, in addition 426 SMS members have registered on the system and 29 Ethics Officers across national government have also been trained on the system.
- The national average turnaround time to calls for assistance for Bravo (serious crimes that have happened) and for Charlie (attempted crimes-suspect not on scene) regressed from 22.28 minutes to 37.53 minutes and 20.44 to 42.27 minutes respectively during the period under review. The percentage of temporary residence permits applications finalised within the stipulated time declined from 58 to 46 percent during this quarter. The target is 75% for temporary residence permits finalised within six weeks by 31 March 2014.
- The average number of days taken to process social grants remained at two days over the quarter, therefore the target of 21 days for 2014 has been achieved.

Compliance with regards to the signing of performance agreements (PAs) by members of the Senior Management Services (SMS)

To improve the level of compliance with regards to the signing of PAs by members of the SMS, the Minister for Public Service and Administration issued a directive which prescribes that with effect from 1 April 2009, SMS members and their supervisors must conclude their performance agreements within the first two months of the financial year, i.e. 31 May of each financial year. SMS members who do not comply shall not be eligible for any performance incentives including pay progression for that performance cycle.

There has been a significant increase in the compliance by SMS members who submit their performance agreements by the due date of 31 May. For the 2012/2013 financial year, 115 out of the 157 departments submitted compliance reports to the DPSA. An analysis of the 115 reports received showed a compliance rate of 80% by March 2014.

To replace the manual reporting by departments on the signing of performance agreements, the DPSA, in consultation with National Treasury, embarked on a process of capturing employee performance management information on the PERSAL system. For the 2013/2014 financial year 149 out of the 157 departments captured data on the signing of PAs of SMS. According to the PERSAL report, in those departments where information was captured on PERSAL, a total of 6 636 out of the 8 945 of SMS members have signed PAs by the due date. This represents a compliance rate of 74% .

Management of Poor Performance for the members of the SMS

In March 2013, the Minister for Public Service and Administration approved the Strategy for the Management of Poor Performance for members of the Senior Management Services (SMS). The strategy was circulated to all departments for implementation by means of issuing of a DPSA circular dated 20 May 2013. The strategy seeks to overcome the inconsistencies and weaknesses in the application of the Misconduct and Incapacity Code and Procedures and the consequences for poor performance.

The DPSA, in consultation with the Office of the Public Service Commission and the Department of Performance Monitoring and Evaluation will continue to report on the impact of the implementation of the Strategy for the Management of Poor Performance.

Revised Performance Management and Development System (PMDS) for Heads of Department (HODs)

The DPSA has developed a revised PMDS for HODs to align the assessments of HODs with institutional performance. Since the matter regarding the placement of the oversight and facilitation for the evaluation of HODs has not yet been resolved; the approval by Cabinet of the revised PMDS has been delayed. This project will continue into the next strategic cycle. The inter-departmental technical Steering Committee, comprising of the DPSA, Department of Performance Monitoring and Evaluation and the Office of the Public Service Commission, will finalise all outstanding matters and submit proposals to Cabinet on the revised PMDS for HODs and the placement of the oversight function.

Cabinet has approved that a different process be followed to finalise the outstanding evaluations of HODs for all periods prior to and including 2012/2013 performance cycles, as well as the process to be followed in the subsequent performance cycles. Cabinet resolved that the Minister for Public Service and Administration may approve a once-off deviation from the HOD evaluation process to address the backlogs and to ensure that all outstanding evaluations of HODs, for all periods prior to and including 2012/2013 performance cycles, are finalised before 1 April 2014. Cabinet also approved that the Public Service Commission (PSC) introduce measures to facilitate the evaluation of HODs for the 2013/2014 performance cycle.

Reducing the average vacancy rate and time to fill posts in the Public Service

To address the high vacancy rate in the Public Service, which was approximately 19% when the Delivery Agreement was signed in 2010, and the long periods taken by departments to fill vacant posts (approximately nine months on average); a Strategy was developed by the DPSA to facilitate the reduction of the period it takes to fill vacant posts to at least six months (four months after being advertised) and the reduction of the vacancy rate to at least 10%.

As at 31 January 2014 the average vacancy rate in the Public Service was reduced to 9.56% and the median time to fill vacant posts during the period 1 January 2013 to 31 December 2013 was reduced to 4.9 months by 31 March 2014.

Key Statistics

Vacancy Rate

2010 = 19%
2014 = 9.56%

Time to fill a vacancy

2010 = 9 months on average
2014 = 6 months on average

The quality of information on the PERSAL system, moratoria placed by departments on the filling of posts. Continuous restructuring of departments as well as long periods it takes to finalise the prescribed personnel suitability checks also continue to be a challenge. The vacancy rate and time to fill posts have largely stabilised and are not expected to improve further in the short term.

Public Service Skills Audit (Project: HR Connect)

In responding to the question posed to the DPSA on whether the Public Service has the requisite capacity to deliver on its mandate, the DPSA initiated a project to develop a methodology and conduct a large scale skills audit in the Public Service. Against this background HR Connect was conceptualised and introduced in the Public Service as a process to measure and establish the extent and depth of skills (capacity of the state) in the Public Service.

Key Statistics

- 1) The Human Resource Connect (HR) Project has been implemented in 146 departments.
- 2) 800 000 employees surveyed.
- 3) 500 skills audit reports issued to the relevant department.

Approximately 800 000 employees from 146 departments were surveyed. The skills survey and auditing broadly entailed the development of generic job profiles that were used as the basis to define the job requirements, which were mapped against posts. The skill (experience, knowledge and tasks) levels of employees were surveyed by means of an individualised employee survey form against the post he/she is occupies.

The skills audit reports were made available to participating departments towards the end of 2012. In addition to the departmental reports, approximately 500 occupational reports have been developed, providing a transverse picture of the skills level of each occupation in the Public Service. Guidelines and a toolbox have been developed to assist the surveyed departments in the analysis of the skills audit reports for their respective departments. Departments will then develop plans to address the identified skills gaps.

Skills gap analysis for Senior Managers in the Public Service

The DPSA is responsible for ensuring that there is a professional management service in the Public Service. In this regard the department has established and implemented implementing competency based management through developing transversal employment policies, prescripts and guidelines and other career practices for senior managers within the Public Service in order to achieve a highly competent, dedicated, responsive and productive leadership cadre for enhanced service delivery.

During the 2009 - 2014 period the Department conducted a skills gap analysis of Senior Managers and compiled a report which reflects the organisational skills requirements and SMS members skills gaps. Furthermore, the Workplace Skills Plans of various departments were analysed in order to identify training needs of Senior Managers in the respective departments. This analysis has assisted in identifying the competencies that pose a major challenge amongst SMS members, significant gaps in relation to SMS generic managerial competencies, technical skills which were problematic amongst SMS members as well as insight on the organisational skills requirements compared to the skills possessed by Senior Managers. This analysis should be used by departments to inform targeted interventions to close the identified skills gaps. The understanding and identification of the problematic areas in respect to performance output provided a platform for improvement.

Competency based assessments for members of the Senior Management Service

The Directive on the implementation of competency based assessments for members of the Senior Management Service (SMS) in the Public Service was issued for implementation by Departments with effect from 01 April 2011. This Directive provides the necessary clarity regarding effective implementation of competency based assessments.

The Directive also enforces a link between competency based assessments, recruitment, training and development as well as performance management practices. The directive further emphasizes that the competency assessment results should be used to inform the respective individual's Personal Development Plan (PDP). The introduction of this Directive has assisted departments in formalizing and imposing training on SMS members which is key to improving the level and quality of performance. Year on year reports reflecting the implementation of the Directive by departments have been compiled.

In order for this practice to have a considerable impact, departments need to ensure that the assessment outcome is taken forward through targeted capacity development initiatives.

Compulsory capacity development and mandatory training days

This project was part of Outcome 12, sub- output 2.4 dealing with cadre development. It aims to specifically address and provide a coordinated approach to the development of senior managers in the Public Service.

A Directive, which was circulated for implementation by departments in April 2013. The directive is a mechanism to promote skills development that adequately responds to the Public Service for the benefit of improved service delivery. The directive guides departments on how to make development policies more useful in the training arena, provides the link between the process of identifying skills deficiencies and addressing such deficiencies and also advocates for compulsory continuous development in order for SMS members to keep abreast of relevant management practices and technical skills.

Utilization of the departmental training budgets

A framework for the utilization of the departmental training budgets was also developed and circulated to all departments through a Directive signed by the Minister. The framework seeks to ensure that the departmental budgets allocated to training and development are utilized appropriately to develop the skills and competencies required to effectively deliver on the priorities of government

A letter was issued by National Treasury to Chief Financial Officers of National Departments instructing them not hold back transfers to the PSETA contributed to the wide scale of non-compliance by departments.

Youth Internship, Learnership and Apprenticeship Programmes

The recruitment of interns, learners and apprentices by public service departments is maturing gradually every year since the monitoring and reporting process started during the 2010-2011 financial year. Increasingly, many departments absorb suitable interns and learners into permanent positions thereby contributing the eradication of unemployment amongst graduates and youth.

To support departments in improving levels of compliance with provisions of the Human Resource Development Strategic Framework; the DPSA provided support to departments in recruiting 88 820 youth since the 2010/11 financial year, including a percentage from rural areas and unemployed young graduates into internships, Learnerships or artisans programme.

Key Statistics

Period	Target	Actual Numbers Reported
2009 - 2010:	25 000	4 002
2010 - 2011:	25 000	19 278
2011 – 2012:	15 000	20 370
2012 – 2013:	15 000	17 820
2013 – 2014:	15 000	27 350
Total	135 000	88 820

Between 2009 and March 2014 a total number of 98 820 individuals were recruited in to the public service departments at both national and provincial as interns, learners and apprentices. The Rural Youth Development Programme, first piloted in 2011 in Limpopo, Kwa - Zulu Natal and Northern Cape, continued successfully and was extended to Free State in 2013. Public Service Career Guidance Exhibitions were held in July 2013 KwaZulu-Natal where a total of 10 000 school learners and unemployed youth participated. The province has taken over the coordination fully.

e- Learning Policy and guidelines

The e- Learning Policy and guidelines were developed and will be finalised for approval by the Minister for Public Service and Administration during the 2014/15 financial year, for implementation with effect from April 2015. The introduction of e-Learning in the Public Service is part of an effort to support improved access to learning opportunities.

2015 Human Resource Development (HRD) Strategic Framework

The Department has conducted an evaluation of the implementation Vision 2015 Human Resource Development (HRD) Strategic Framework. The purpose of the evaluation was to assess how the implementation of the framework has impacted on department's sectoral priorities, the provincial HRD strategy, contributed to the institutionalization of the HRD function in departments as a strategic business partner, to building the capacity essential for departments to meet their mandates; and contributed to the achievement the departments' mandates to the Provincial Growth and Development Strategies (PGDS).

As part of the Review Process consultative workshops were held with National and Provincial government departments. Also participating in the workshops were the South Africa Local Government Association (SALGA)¹, Higher Education Institutions, Further Education and Training Colleges, Municipalities, the National School of Government (NSG), and some State Owned Companies. A diagnostic review report on the implementation of Vision 2015 HRD Strategic Framework has been compiled.

The findings of the evaluation showed, amongst others, that role of Human Resource Development function as a strategic contributor to the achievement of strategic mandates of the departments is gradually deepening. Many departments have departmental HRD strategies aligned to their sectoral, occupational, national and provincial growth and development strategies. Even though very little progress has been made, the function of the HRD is being elevated from an administrative function to senior levels. Departments such as Home Affairs, International Relations and Relations, Defence, Correctional Services and the Police have their HRD functions at Deputy Director-General levels. As per the report of 2011-2012; 70% of HRD managers are at the required level of Director or above, while 30% are at Deputy Director and below. Just less than 50% of all HRD managers are at the level of Director and only 23% at Chief Director and above.

The Performance Framework developed as part of the Integrated HRD Plan was adopted by sub-structures of the PSSC, and contributed to the National Integrated HRD Plan launched by the Deputy State President at the beginning of March 2014.

Recognition of Prior Learning

The Policy on Recognition of Prior Learning in the Public Service (RPL) was approved in June 2013 by the Minister for Public Service and Administration. The Policy is currently being prepared to serve in the Cabinet as per the Minister's instructions. The RPL Pilot project by the DPSA involving three provinces (Limpopo, Eastern Cape and Western Cape) and one National Department (National Treasury) was selected as one of the Case Studies profiled during the National Conference on RPL by the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) in February 2014.

Diversity Management

From 2010 the DPSA has supported departments in order for them to meet Gender, Disability and Youth Targets. As at 31 March 2010, the representation of women in Senior Management Services (SMS) was 36%. 14 departments had met the 50% equity target for the representation of women at SMS. 36 departments had representation of women at SMS between 40% and 49%. Representation of people with disabilities was 0.20%, 12 departments had met the 2% target for the representation of people with disabilities and 30 departments had representation of people with disabilities above 1%. Youth represented 25% of the Public Service workforce.

¹ SALGA participation was only recorded in Mpumalanga, Northern Cape and Limpopo.

In departments where HODs take responsibility for diversity management, the departments do well not only in meeting targets, but also in creating an enabling environment for employees. Departments that are systematically implementing remedial plans are improving their representation. One department in the Northern Cape that was once at 17% had improved to 38% by December 2013. Disaggregation of representation of women at SMS should be encouraged so that departments are not meeting the 50% targets with only women found at levels 13 and 14.

The 2010 annual report on affirmative action and employment equity provided an insight into the ability of departments to meet the equity targets at the appointed time of March 2009 and gave them an opportunity to improve. Departments like Performance Monitoring and SAPS, that had representation of women at SMS below 30%, improved immediately after implementing remedial plans and currently there is no national department below 30%.

Graph 1: Distribution of women within the Senior Management from 1995 to 2013

The table above shows that the appointment of women into senior management positions within the public service has increased by 32% since 1995 whilst that of males has decreased by more than 30%. The representation of women at SMS is concentrated at level 13 and 14 and there are very few women at post levels 15 and 16.

Graph 2: Trends in the representation of people with disabilities in the Public Service between 1994 to 2013

The table above shows that the representation of people with disabilities, though slow, has improved from 0.2 % in December 1997 to 0.44% in December 2013.

Graph 3: Race distribution within the entire Public Service from 1995 - 2013

The table above shows that the 75% representation of Blacks in the Public Service has been met and the over-representation of White people has decreased from 1994 to 2013. These trends support the representation of the demographics of the country.

Some of the key lessons learnt in the area of diversity management are that, (1) equity targets can never be met without supporting initiatives that address an enabling environment, mainstreaming, removing barriers and capacity development and that, (2) without a Public Service wide policy, employees with disabilities depended on the goodwill of accounting officers for provision of reasonable accommodation and reasonable accommodation.

In departments where HODs took responsibility for the implementation of remedial plans, there was improvement towards meeting the equity targets. Departments that were undergoing the Disability Management training were improving their disability management. Departments that were implementing remedial plans and implementation plans were managing disability much better.

The 2012 annual report on Affirmative Action and Employment Equity indicated that 16 departments had met the 2% target for the representation of people with disabilities, 49 departments had representation of people with disabilities above 1%. Youth represented 27% of the Public Service workforce. The representation of people with disabilities was not improving from 0.20% since 2008 and there was a need for drastic action. The representation of youth was lower than that of employees above 50 and therefore creating a vacuum when the older generations retired

In November 2012 Cabinet approved the report and the decision to hold HODs accountable for meeting equity targets. Decisions were communicated to HODs and Executive Authorities through a letter issued by the DPSA.

The recorded trends regarding the improvement in the representation of women at SMS, which is by a percentage point annually, suggests that it will take the Public Service 14 years to meet the 50% target, unless something drastic is done.

Employee Health and Wellness Policies

During the reporting period, the Department supported government departments in the implementation of four Employee Health and Wellness policies for the Public Service. These are: the HIV&AIDS and TB management Policy; the Health & Productivity Management Policy; the Safety, Health, Environment, Risk and Quality Management Policy and the Wellness Management Policy. The proportion of government departments who reported implementing at least one policy in March 2010 has increased from 53% to 90% by March 2013. The proportion of departments reporting that they are implementing all four EHW policies has increased from 1% in March 2010 .to 60% in March 2013.

The Minister for Public Service and Administration approved the Employee Health and Wellness Strategic Framework in November 2008. This was one of the organisational support mechanisms for the Human Resource Development Strategic Framework approved by Cabinet in 2007. In February 2009 Cabinet approved the Safety, Health, Environment, Risk and Quality Management Policy for the Public Service. In November 2009, the HIV&AIDS and TB Management Policy for the Public Service, the Health and Productivity Management Policy for the Public Service 2009 and the Wellness Management Policy for the Public Service were approved by the Minister for Public Service and Administration for implementation in National and Provincial Departments with effect from 1 April 2010.

A range of EHW policy implementation tools, which were all approved by Minister for Public Service and Administration, were developed and used to facilitated policy implementation, monitoring and evaluation. These included the Systems Monitoring Tool, the Gender Sensitive Rights Based HIV&AIDS Mainstreaming Guidelines, the Child Care Facilities Guidelines, and the Guidelines on management of Psychosocial Stressors in the Public Service (SOLVE Guidelines).

The HIV&AIDS M&E, monitoring and evaluation Plan for the Public Service was developed and partially used in the review of the HIV&AIDS STI National Strategic Plan for 2007-2011. The HIV&AIDS and TB management Policy for the Public Service provides for HIV&AIDS mainstreaming for both the employees as internal clients and the Public as external clients of government. Policy implementation support workshops were held and have yielded positive results with all clusters of Government departments who are now implementing HIV&AIDS mainstreaming programmes and projects .

The 8-Principles of Commitment to HIV&AIDS Mainstreaming were approved by the Governance and Administration Cluster as a strategic enabler to release resources, employ management practices systems for mainstreamed HIV&AIDS and maintain healthy and safe working environments. Indicators for HIV&AIDS Mainstreaming were developed with support and leadership of SADC. The Management Performance and Administration Tool has indicators for HIV&AIDS Mainstreaming and Employee Health and Wellness Policy Implementation.

In partnership with the Japanese International Cooperation Agency (JICA), the DPSA has produced a curriculum for M&E of HIV&AIDS, the Draft M&E Framework for the Public Service and also provided technical support to five SADC Countries (Zimbabwe, Lesotho, Swaziland, Namibia, and Botswana) on M&E of HIV&AIDS. This partnership was as a result of a Presidential minute by former President Motlanthe in 2009 where DPSA was instructed to enter into an MOU with JICA to increase HIV&AIDS M&E Capacity.

The Africa Peer Review Mechanism report had extensive documentation of South Africa's HIV&AIDS progress thus far and was well received by the African Union. The Social governance of management of HIV&AIDS in South Africa remains a best practice model for HIV&AIDS governance where Public Services, Public Participation, and sustainable development are addressed seamlessly through HIV&AIDS mainstreaming.

In the areas of labour relations and remuneration management, the Department implemented a number of interventions key amongst these were the following:

Long Service Recognition

A policy on long service was developed and circulated to departments for implementation in 2012.

The Long Service Recognition dispensation was reviewed to ensure that the government as the employer is in a position to retain skills and reward loyalty to the public service. The PSCBC Resolution 1 of 2012 provides for the recognition of Long Service in the Public Service as follows:

Long Service Recognition- Categories

Employees with 10 or more years of continued service will qualify for 30 working days leave and a certificate

Employees with 20 years continued service will receive a cash award of R 7 500 plus a certificate,

Employees with 30 years continued service will receive a cash award of R 15 000 plus a certificate;

Employees with 40 years continued service will receive a cash award of R 20 000 plus a certificate.

The cash award is adjusted annually on 1 April according to the CPI for the period January to December of the previous year. Departments were informed through circulars and a Determination was also issued in this regard. The first Adjustment was effected on 1 April 2013.

Housing Allowance

The Housing Allowance was introduced to assist employees with their recurring monthly costs of accommodation. It was also intended to assist employees access to owned and rented accommodation. With the conclusion of PSCBC Resolution 1 of 2012, the allowance was increased from R800 to R900 per month and was implemented with effect from 1 April 2012. The housing allowance is only payable to employees on salary levels 1 to 10 who meet the requirements as prescribed in the Determination on Housing dated July 2012. There is marked improvement in the number of employees qualifying for housing allowance and benefitting from it. As at March 2014, currently there are approximately 972 000 public servants receiving the housing allowance.

In the area of Public Service Information Communication Technology, the department has implemented a number of interventions towards the creation of an enabling environment for ICT to be used as strategic resource and enabler for improved service delivery. These included;

Corporate Governance of ICT Policy Framework

The Corporate Governance of ICT Policy Framework (CGICTPF), Implementation Guideline and Assessment Standard were developed in collaboration with the Auditor General and GITO Council and adopted by Cabinet in November 2012. The policy was issued as a Directive in February 2013 for implementation by all departments. Given the value of the framework in addressing a range of ICT governance; cabinet extended the scope of the from the Public Service to Public Administration to include Local Government, Organs of State and Public Entities.

The implementation of the framework is assessed through the MPAT of the Department of Performance Monitoring and Evaluation in the Presidency. The indicators assessed include CGICT Charter, IT Plan, IT Implementation and Operational plan.

Cab-Enet System to support communication and document management within Cabinet

The Office of the President, as business owner, took over the responsibility of the project (functionality, development and implementation). The system was developed and tested by SITA in collaboration with SSA during 2012/13. The Office Of the President consulted with Executive Authorities and a submission on the system was adopted by Cabinet during November 2013. The DPSA is assisting the implementation by providing advice to departments as and when required.

ICT Expenditure Patterns in the Public Service

An ICT Expenditure review was conducted in 2009/10. Based on the recommendations of the Expenditure Review Report; DPSA requested National Treasury to review the SCOA codes on ICT spend in order to better monitor ICT expenditure within the public service. The SCOA Codes were reviewed during the 2011/12 financial year and published for implementation by departments with effect from April 2012.

Connectivity of Thusong Service centres to ICT infrastructure

As at the end of the 2012/13 financial year; 91 Thusong centres were connected to ICT infrastructure. The intention of the ICT connection of the centers was to improve service delivery to citizens including, and in particular, those in the rural areas. The connected centers were in all the nine (9) provinces.

IT Security Vulnerability Assessment Program

The Vulnerability Assessment project was a joint initiative between the DPSA, SITA, SSA and the SIU. DPSA held a co-ordination role for the assessments that were to take place. The agencies in question had no resources to conduct further assessments. As a result, DPSA updated the methodology in view of the lessons during the vulnerability assessment conducted at the Department of Public Enterprises (DPE). The methodology will be used by the departments to conduct their own assessments.

E-government

The e-Government policy framework of 2001 has been updated and made relevant to the current technology environment. During this exercise, alignment with SITA to some degree has been achieved as discussions resulted in further engagements on current e-Government projects SITA is busy with. The draft e-Government Policy Framework has been completed and submitted for approval by the Minister of Public Service and Administration once the Public Administration Management Bill is passed into an Act, the E-Government policy framework will be extended to local government as well.

SITA Oversight

The Minister for Public Service and Administration is the sole shareholder of SITA on behalf of government. The DPSA has a responsibility for SITA Oversight which also included advising the Minister with regards to all SITA related matters. The Department also provided advice and support with respect to the SITA shareholders compact to ensure that it (the compact) is signed and is in line with the National Treasury guidelines.

In the period under review, the Department has also provided feedback to the G&A cluster regarding progress with regards to the implementation of the SITA Turnaround strategy by the SITA Board and the GITO Council. The Department has provided oversight with regards to matters related to compliance with the SITA Act by amongst other monitoring related issues as raised by departments as well as assessing the quarterly and annual reports submitted by SITA to the Minister and advising the Minister on matters that require her intervention.

The Department is also mandated to develop norms and standards in the areas of organisational transformation and service delivery improvement. In this regard the following projects and interventions were implemented during the 2012/14 financial years.

Geographic Accessibility Study

Against the background of an almost zero baseline in terms of geographic access norms in 2007, key national departments developed differentiated geographic access (Home Affairs, SAPS, Education, Labor and SASSA) norms to assist in footprint planning and the roll out and optimisation of service points.

The Department has conducted accessibility studies of key services across all spheres of governments in two of the largest metropolitan areas, city of Johannesburg and eThekweni. These two areas show the highest level of in-migration according to Census 2011 data and also the fastest growing city regions. The study attempted to cluster such facilities into social services nodes which are aligned with the key development nodes identified by the two metropolitan municipalities in their Integrated Development Plans (IDP). The report and recommendations regarding underprovided areas, the maintenance of spatially referenced data and operational efficiency of service centers was endorsed by Cabinet.

Guidelines to assist departments with the development of geographic access norms were developed, posted on the DPSA website and a hardcopy of the guidelines extensively distributed. The guidelines create and awareness of the importance of geographic access norms and sets out the methodology for undertaking geographic accessibility studies. Departments were also empowered to undertake a gap analysis of supply and demand of services. Key national departments have developed differentiated geographic access norms to assist in footprint planning.

The accessibility study in metropolitan areas identified capacity issues that affect operational efficiency and access to services as the location of most service centers and facilities were not the main impediment to access. The major challenge is the lack of adequate capacity to provide services at the current facilities.

There is a need to increase the operational capacity of many well-located facilities through productivity efficiencies, improved business processes, staff training, longer service hours or increases in staff numbers. Areas of under provision of services were identified in both metropolitan areas for priority intervention by the sector, provincial and municipal structures over the 2015/19 MTEF period. This has already led to a focus on the location and planning of additional fire service stations required in the eThekweni Metropolitan Area.

Some of the lessons learnt indicated that the development and maintenance of electronic data bases of government facilities which provide the GPS location of facilities, information on the relevant services and capacity is critical for proper planning. Spatial data is essential to plan and provide services equitably and effectively in future. This will have to be addressed through the proposed new Public Service Regulations.

Many departments do not have accurate addresses and spatial data (geographic positions) of service facilities. This leads to delays in project timelines to verify and correct data, but more seriously hampers effective planning, and communication of basic information to citizens to enable them to find service points easily and quickly.

Standards developed by the Committee on Spatial Information (DRDLA) regarding the keeping of metadata need to be urgently implemented to address some of the basic data issues. Quality of data will remain a focus area for the next MTEF period.

Service Delivery Planning

As part of the Outcome 12 initiatives, an Operations Management Framework and Methodology was developed and consulted upon. The Framework and Methodology deals with the institutionalisation of Service Delivery Model, Business Process Management, Standard Operating Procedures, Service Standards, Service Charters, Operations Management, Unit Costing, Service Delivery Improvement Plans. The implementation of the Operations Management Framework and Methodology was supported through toolkits for each of the building blocks listed above detailing how to develop the specific initiative.

Hands on training and support was provided to the departments of Health, Education and Human Settlements at national and provincial sphere of government. During the 2013/14 financial year, 55 separate sessions were held with stakeholders in this regard. A report on the status of implementation of Business Process Management, Standard Operating Procedures and Unit Costing by the departments of Health, Education and Human Settlement departments was developed. This report indicates that implementation of the various initiatives is still at a very early stage. Furthermore, a web enabled system has been developed for knowledge sharing and reporting on the Operational Management Framework and Methodology. It is foreseen that the system will be implemented early in the 2014/15 financial year.

Batho Pele programmes

As part of the ongoing work aimed at institutionalising Batho Pele within government departments, a number of related programmes and projects were implemented. These included the Batho Pele Change Management Engagement Programme, the revision of the Khaedu programme strategy in 2011 and the Productivity Management Framework.

Furthermore, advocacy and capacity building workshops were conducted with the Departments of Justice and Labour as well as provincial departments in Gauteng, Limpopo and North West, Mpumalanga, Free State, Eastern Cape as well as at three national departments. In addition, all 14 national offices of the National Youth Development Agency (NYDA) were oriented on the Batho Pele principles.

Key observations are that, (1) where the Batho Pele has been institutionalised, positive lessons are visible. For example, specialised units have been established (in some departments at Chief Director Level) to take responsibility for the implementation of Batho Pele programmes and, (2) where Executive Authorities and Accounting Officers are hands on, resources are available, as the programme is embedded in the strategic and operational plans of the department and monitoring, including site visits, is conducted regularly and action commissioned to remedy problematic situations, led by the Ministers and Directors-General and (3) citizen satisfaction levels increase (as seen through reports and surveys) in offices where Batho Pele is prominently implemented.

The recent performance report commissioned by the Department of Health shows that in provinces, where the DPSA has conducted capacity and advocacy workshops, citizen satisfaction with service delivery is above 60%.

An ongoing challenge with the institutionalisation of Batho Pele, is that most departments only send operational and junior staff to the capacity building workshops. The influence of these officials on changing organisational culture as well as the attitudes and behavioral patterns of public servants is negligible. Most departments that are still not institutionalising Batho Pele programme cite budgetary constraints and Batho Pele is seen as an addition to work of the officials. The lack of knowledge on how to enforce Batho Pele and the prevailing culture of non-performance also continues to undermine the effective implementation of Batho Pele as a critical service delivery improvement practice.

The DPSA is also working on developing a framework for the professionalisation and improvement of the morale for public servants. It is envisaged that the framework will be finalised and implemented as from 2014.

Service Delivery Improvement Plans

Service Delivery Improvement Plans (SDIPs) are a value-add for departments in that they ensure continuous improvement of services. They also foster a focused approach on improving specific services, as well as proper allocation of resources. SDIPs are developed for a three-year cycle aligned to the MTEF and must be reviewed annually during the MTEF.

Graph 4: Rate of compliance with the submission of Service Delivery Improvement Plans

The SDIPs should assist departments to map out their service delivery processes, identify the key issues to be improved in the value chain and focus on the specific quantitative and qualitative issues to be improved upon. The DPSA has been assessing the submitted SDIPs by providing feedback and conducting workshops that focused on improving the quality and holistic approach of developing SDIPs.

As at 31 March 2013, the overall submission compliance rate by national and provincial departments was 68% compared to 78, 26% in March 2011/12. For the 68% compliance recorded in March 2013, 102 out of 150 national and provincial departments has submitted their SDIPs. Of the 44 national departments, only 12 (27%) had submitted. Of the 106 provincial departments, 90 (85%) had submitted. Out of the 109 submitted SDIPs only 84 (77%) were assessed and validated with all sector departments during the month of February 2013.

The summary of the quality assessment is that 21% of the 84 departments assessed produced quality SDIPs. The breakdown is as follows: only 5 (6%) of the 84 Departments presented qualitative (good) submissions (scored 70% and above on the compliance scale). Thirteen, which is 15% of the overall departments, scored between 50 -69%, which is an average score.

Ongoing challenges regarding the SDIPs are that departments submit SDIPs for the sake of malicious compliance without aligning them to their identified strategic priority delivery areas of improvement, the quality of submitted reports on the implementation of the SDIPs is poor and they mainly focus on functions rather than the services provided by the Department as a whole. They are not in line with their legal mandate, some departments submit the same annual SDIPs every year without any review of progress made or a review of the SDIP itself. As a result, few progress reports are received on those departments that have submitted a 3-year SDIP and the consultation with the relevant stakeholders, such as communities, during the process of developing service standards, service charters, SDIPs, seems not to be clear and explicit and thus contributing to the poor quality of the SDIPs. This lack of involvement and consultation also extends to front line officials who, as a result, do not know what to deliver on which further contributes to poor service delivery.

Public Administration and Financial Delegations

The National Development Plan (NDP) makes the following key statements under the topic, “Building a Capable and Developmental State” so as to stabilize the political-administrative interface with clearer separation between the roles of the political principal and the administrative head. Delegation, accountability and oversight must be strengthened by promoting greater and more consistent delegation supported by systems of support and oversight. Staff at all levels must have the authority, experience and support they need to do their jobs.

To advance the aspirations of the NDP with regards to the stabilisation of the political-administrative interface and the strengthening of delegation, accountability and oversight, the DPSA and the National Treasury have developed the Principles of Public Administration and Financial Delegations which were approved by Cabinet on the 7th of August 2013. The delegations set out the minimum levels of delegation in terms of the Public Service Act of 1994. Cabinet also approved that new or amended legislation consider the delegations, concepts and principles set out in the Principles document and that the DPSA present the Principles to the Provincial Executive Councils.

The DPSA presented the delegations to the Provincial Executive Councils and to support the implementation of the delegations, a Directive was issued by the Minister for Public Service and Administration, who in terms of the Public Service Act, has the mandate to establish norms and standards for public administration and management delegations.

Generic Functional Structures for sector departments structures

The Department established task teams consisting of provincial and national representatives to identify minimum functions that must be performed by provincial sector departments (identified generic characteristics). The Generic Structure blue prints were developed for the four sectors of the Departments of Corporative Governance and Traditional Affairs, Provincial Treasuries, Department of Public Works and Department of Human Settlements. Nine Consultations aligned to generic structures (Blue print) were conducted during the 2013/14 financial year.

Generic structures have been developed to address the:

- unexplained differences between the organisational structures of the departments responsible for the delivery of similar services in different provinces;
- performance issues through the development of organisational structures;
- strengthening of the implementation of certain functions by elevating the level of the units or reporting lines; and
- inconsistency with regard to levels of similar posts in sector departments.

The purpose of the generic structures is, therefore, to:

- align functions to the departmental strategic objectives;
- provide a framework/blueprint for the development of organizational structures for sector departments;
- ensure consistency with regard to the functional configuration, grouping;
- provide common understanding in terms of the core and support functions, as well as the services provided by COGTA;
- ensure that the COGTA organisational structures are aligned to the mandate and strategic objectives of the Department. Provincial structures must also be aligned to the national structure;
- do away with duplications and overlaps that create confusion and inefficiencies within the total system;
- have generic characteristics;
- form the basis for generic delegations;
- promote collaboration across sector departments; and
- support the performance of minimum functions by sector departments.

Audit of organisational structures

The Department has also developed a methodology to conduct audits of structures of department. The audits see to ensure that the approved structures implemented by departments lead to organisational effectiveness (compliance, standardisation and efficiency). The Audit will be conducted from September 2014 to identify current the status and to propose recommendations for future improvements.

Community Development Workers Conference

Community Development Workers play an important role of disseminating user-friendly information about government services and programmes to citizens as well as to facilitate that the information is used by citizen in the quest to improve their living conditions.

On 14 - 15 March 2013, the DPSA convened a conference for Community Development Workers that was attended by 500 participants representing Community Development Workers from each province and about 50 stakeholders from government departments. The purpose of the conference was to empower Community Development Workers by providing them with important information about government priorities and related projects and how these can benefit the poor and disadvantaged communities.

Among the government leaders who addressed the conference was the President of the Republic, Mr. Jacob Zuma who addressed the conference on the government priorities for the 2013/2014 financial year as was expressed in the State of the Nation Address. The main message to Community Development Workers was to visit communities, inform them about the projects that government has put in place to benefit citizens including the infrastructure programmes established, Open Government Partnership and to facilitate the access of citizens to these programmes.

The Minister of Finance addressed the conference about the importance of the government's budget, how it is used to ensure that government objectives are met and the internal and external factors that influence budget. The Minister for Public Service and Administration highlighted the role CDWs play as early warning machinery and in providing government with important information on how communities experience government service delivery. The Minister emphasised that CDWs must play their role effectively and ensure that community protests in their wards are minimised or completely avoided.

The Deputy Minister reminded the conference that community development workers are crucial foot-soldiers of government and that they must be capacitated and empowered to understand the priorities of government in order to go back to their wards and effectively inform citizens about government policies and what is being done to bring better life to all the citizens of South Africa. The Deputy Minister further mentioned that, where necessary, Community Development Workers must also explain to communities challenges that government experiences that may lead to delays in service delivery. She also called for the conference to be held on a regular basis to ensure that Community Development Workers and other fieldworkers in government are properly informed about government priorities.

Community Development Workers left the conference feeling empowered and informed about what government information on key priorities they should communicate to citizens, how access should be facilitated and where funds must be sought to assist with community development work.

Enabling policy environment for the Community Development Workers Programme

From the year 2009 to date, the Department has sought to create an enabling policy environment for the Community Development Workers Programme. To this end, the Regulations for Community Development Workers were developed in 2010 and a Citizen Engagement Strategy was developed in 2011 with the purpose of setting the parameters for effective implementation of the CDW programme. In 2012 a Master Plan for Community Development Workers was developed. The purpose of the Master Plan is to define the terrain that Community Development Workers occupy within the government service delivery improvement and access machinery. The Plan also guides Community Development Workers and other field workers employed by government on how to implement community development programmes.

In 2013, the Repositioning of Community Development Workers Model was developed to facilitate better co-ordination of the programme and to guide the appropriate location for Community Development Workers.

In the areas of public service governance and international relations, the Department has implemented the following projects and interventions:

Compliance to the Public Service Act and Regulations.

During the financial year 2012/2013, the Department conducted capacity development sessions on compliance areas to the Public Service Act and Regulations. The findings of this evaluation showed that most of the departments are still challenged with regards to the development of SDIPs, recruitment and appointment processes (verification of qualification and vetting) which impacts on the period it takes to fill a vacancies, HR planning and organisation including leave, overtime and management of suspensions.

A report with findings indicated that in order to close these gaps, capacity development initiatives need to be instituted in all those compliance areas identified to be challenging for implementation by departments.

Employee Satisfaction Survey

The data collection instruments were reviewed and the Pilot Employee Satisfaction Survey was conducted in the Mpumalanga and Gauteng provinces to determine the validity and reliability of the reviewed data collection instrument.

Following the pilot study, the instrument (questionnaire) was determined to be valid and reliable to accurately measure the necessary work environment dimensions relevant for employee productivity and satisfaction. There is a need to institutionalise the regular conducting of employee satisfaction surveys in the public service in order to enhance productivity among public servants and to create a conducive work environment.

Citizen Report Card Survey

The Citizen Report Card Survey has been conducted in 11 municipalities focusing on the five sectors of Education, Health, SASSA, SAPS and Home Affairs. The overall level of satisfaction across these 5 sectors is 69.7% (baseline).

Performance was measured against the following criteria: Accessibility, Quality, Reliability, Staff Performance, Redress and Transparency and Openness. The key recommendations made include the need for the improvement of quality of services, access to services as well as increasing public knowledge on avenues available for sharing of service complaints and dissatisfaction.

To strengthen community engagement and dialogue regarding service delivery, Citizen Report Card Surveys should be institutionalised in the public service and there should also be measures to enforce implementation of findings and recommendations as these are intended for improvement in the quality and timely delivery of services to the citizens.

Public Sector Integrity Management Framework

The Public Service Integrity Management Framework was approved by Cabinet on the 9th of October 2013. The framework seeks to strengthen measures for managing unethical conduct and promoting integrity within the public service. The Framework was presented to heads of departments (HoD Forums) in all provinces and a national workshop which was attended by ethics officers and anti-corruption practitioners in national departments was held in March 2014.

In addition to the framework, three sets of guides were developed to assist departments in implementing the Framework.

Effectiveness of the Anti-Corruption Framework

An assessment of the effectiveness of the anti-corruption framework, which was adopted by Cabinet in 2003, was conducted from April 2012 to March 2013. The purpose of the assessment was to ascertain the level of effectiveness of the anti-corruption measures employed by institutions of government and to identify gaps and best practices in combating corruption within the public service.

Ten (10) national departments of the JCPS cluster, two (2) departments in the Kwa Zulu-Natal province and one (1) department in the Eastern Cape were assessed. A report on the findings of the assessment was compiled and submitted to departments.

Some of the key recommendations made in the report to support improvements include:

- leadership should increase the level of communication within their organisations to make their stance on corruption clear to all stakeholders, but particularly to employees (as internal stakeholders);
- institutions should develop a comprehensive anti-corruption strategy to address all four pillars of fighting corruption (prevention, detection, investigation and resolution) instead of relying on fraud prevention plans. While fighting fraud could be part of the strategy, institutions should be seen to be consciously fighting corruption. The MACC guidelines should also be amended to accommodate this recommendation;
- the prevention programme should include institutionalization of ethics in general and specifically the code of conduct, with a clear monitoring mechanism in place and a reasonable programme should be put in place to encourage employees to undergo ethics/anti-corruption training annually. Electronic based training is recommended;
- institutions should develop information management systems to keep record of all corruption cases and track progress regarding such cases; and
- a formal partnership with law enforcement agencies should also be developed to aid the successful resolution of cases and the recovery of losses.

The assessment led to the JCPS cluster convening a conference in October 2013 to take forward the recommendations of the report. The DPSA continues to work with the cluster to ensure that recommendations are implemented.

Corruption Perception Survey

During the 2013/14 financial year, the Department also conducted a corruption perception survey in all the nine provinces. The purpose of the survey was to solicit views and opinions of citizens on how they perceive the level of corruption in South Africa. Some of the key findings emanating from the survey showed that:

- the level of corruption in all three spheres of government is perceived to be high and generally on the increase;
- the public sector is perceived to be far more corrupt than the business/private and non-governmental sectors; and
- the public's perceptions of corruption in the country are however, not based on factual information or personal experiences but on media reports and hearsay from friends and relatives.

As a result of the survey, government now has own its data sets that be used to understand the perception of corruption instead of relying on reports by international organisations.

United Nations Against Corruption

The Department has successfully coordinated (1) the first assessment cycle of South Africa which was completed in September 2012 and (2) the participation of South Africa in the first assessment cycle of Morocco in 2011 which was successfully completed. The assessment report for South Africa was published by the UNODC in February 2013. The report is published on both the DPSA and the UNODC website. South Africa was one of the countries where the review involved key government institutions and non-governmental organisations.

OECD Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions

The Department has successfully coordinated the Phase 3 evaluation of South Africa on the implementation of the OECD Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions. The report was adopted and published by the OECD Working Group on Bribery in March 2014. The Report raised the following key issues:

- a. The Working Group is concerned with the lack of foreign bribery enforcement actions in South Africa. Only ten foreign bribery allegations have surfaced since South Africa became a party to the Convention in 2007. These allegations have not resulted in a single prosecution and the four on-going investigations are far from reaching the prosecutorial stage. According to the WGB, the South African authorities did not proactively investigate or seek the co-operation of foreign authorities in any of the four on-going investigations or the other allegations;
- b. The Working Group is also concerned that political and economic considerations may be influencing the investigation and prosecution of foreign bribery. According to the WGB, South Africa are not taking steps to ensure that factors prohibited under Article 5 of the Convention do not influence the investigation and prosecution of foreign bribery cases; and
- c. The low number of foreign bribery allegations raises concerns on the levels of awareness, reporting and detection in both the public and private sectors.

Positive developments have also been noted as it was in general noted that South Africa's foreign bribery offence does not raise particular issues and that the country has a generally robust regulatory framework and a broad and flexible corporate liability regime. The Prevention of Organised Crime Act (POCA) allows for the broad use of freezing orders and confiscation measures, although, in the absence of enforcement of the foreign bribery offence, the WGB will continue to monitor the situation. The WGB is encouraged by the expected legislative amendments to address some deficiencies in South Africa's anti-money laundering regime regarding preventive measures. It also welcomes the improvements made for publicly-listed and state-owned enterprises to strengthen internal controls, ethics and compliance measures for the purpose of preventing and detecting foreign bribery, including through the establishment of social and ethics committees. The Department has developed an action log that will guide South Africa in implementing the recommendations of the Phase three evaluation.

Anti-Corruption Capacity Building Programme

The programme is funded by the Canadian government and seeks to contribute to governments efforts to strengthening the capacity required to fight corruption in the public service. From 2008 to date a capacity development programme has been implemented during which three accredited training programmes (for general employees - NQF level 4; anti-corruption practitioners - NQF level 5 and investigators – NQF level 6) were developed. The content of the training was accredited by SAQA and relevant PSETA and SASSETA and the training conducted by PALAMA, now known as the National School of Government.

To date total of 1 742 general employees, 803 anti-corruption practitioners and 200 investigators have been trained. During this period a virtual ethics resource centre has been successfully developed to complement training and a communication and awareness campaign (including brochures, booklets and posters) was rolled from 2011 to 2013.

As a result of this capacity building a programme, there is visible improvement in the knowledge, awareness and skill to prevent, detect and investigate corruption within the public service amongst the departments where officials have been through the programme.

Urban Thusong Service Centre at Maponya Mall

The project, which was first piloted in August 2011 and has been able to integrate government services under one roof. In line with the Access Strategy of government, services have been brought closer to citizens. To date more than 750 000 people have received services at the Thusong Service Centre since its inception. These services are offered by the following departments and agencies;

Key Statistics

More than 750 000 have received services at the Thusong Service Centre.

- 1) Home Affairs - birth registrations, IDs, marriage and death certificates , etc.
- 2) Department of Roads and Transport - drivers licences and permits.
- 3) Department of Finance - electronic recruitment services.
- 4) National Youth Development Agency (NYDA) - business financing.
- 5) Gauteng Enterprise Propeller - Financial support to small business.
- 6) GCIS - dissemination of government information and referrals

Due to the Centre being located within a Mall and services being offered on a Saturday, most people can access services at their convenience while continuing with their normal shopping. A queue management system was installed and utilised successfully in controlling queues within the Centre.

A citizen satisfaction survey was conducted during the course of 2013 , and it revealed the following preliminary results:

- people do not travel long distances to access government services;
- the cost of doing business with government has been reduced;
- due to extended operating hours during the week, more people can access government services;
- as a result of the Queue Management System, waiting periods have been reduced; and
- good relations have been established with community stakeholders within the 39 wards that the Centre offers services to.

In the next MTEF a change Management Training will be institutionalised to foster paradigm shift into a single cultural environment, training and development on Customer Care will be implemented and a Service Level Agreement will be signed with SITA to ensure a manageable ICT environment and a Business Case for coordination and institutional arrangement of the Thusong Service Centre Programme. A Management Framework for Urban Thusong Service Centres will also be developed.

African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM)

As a signatory to the African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM), South Africa acceded to the APRM in March 2003 in Abuja, Nigeria. The country was amongst the first countries to be peer reviewed. South Africa subsequently underwent a self-assessment process by the African Peer Review Panel led team in July 2005. This process resulted in the release of a Country Review Report that produced the APRM National Programme of Action (NPOA). The APRM Country Review Report and the NPOA were officially presented to the public in September 2007.

The monitoring requirements of the APRM require that South Africa submits periodic reports on the implementation of the NPOA. South Africa submitted her First and Second Progress Reports on the implementation of the National Programme to the APR Forum in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia in January 2009 and 2011, respectively.

As part of the above reporting obligations, in January 2014 South Africa submitted her 3rd National Report on the Implementation of the APRM National Programme of Action (NPOA) Validated and Tabled at the AU Summit on the Implementation of the National Programme of Action (NPOA) since the country was first reviewed in July 2007. The Report was compiled using secondary data from the various government reports and research commissioned by independent bodies and civil society organisations. The Report also integrated outcomes of provincial consultations that were undertaken throughout the country during the month of February 2013 in order to solicit inputs for the Report. The process for consolidating the Report was participatory in nature and included consultations with the APRM National Governing Council (NGC), Provincial Governing Councils and other relevant stakeholders.

The 3rd National Report was tabled by the President of the Republic of South Africa, Honourable Jacob Zuma, at the 20th APR Forum held at the African Union held on the 29th of January 2014 in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where it was officially endorsed by the APR Forum.

In the area of Democracy and Political Governance, the Report records major achievements in respect of deepening participatory democracy and in support of the principle of a people centered government. The Report highlights the various mechanisms and processes that exist to ensure continuous engagement with communities and civil society. These include initiatives such as Izimbizo, NEDLAC processes, and Municipal Ward Committee System. These have enabled citizens to participate in policy formulation, implementation and monitoring the progress made in implementing Government's programmes.

In the area of Economic Governance and Management, the Report acknowledges the sound macro-economic policies as well as compliance with relevant codes and standards that enhance good economic governance and management. In this thematic area, the Reports deals with Unemployment and identifies initiatives such as EPWP, the New Growth Path, DTI and the involvement of the private sector in job creation. The Report identifies capacity constraints in the public sector and makes mention of the following initiatives/tools to address these constraints: training offered by PALAMA in partnership with National Treasury and Auditor-General's Compulsory Induction Programme, supply chain, budgeting and financial management. The DBSA's Vulindlela Academy Training. Economic Integration in SADC is referred to in the Report. Notwithstanding capacity constraints, South Africa has made progress in its efforts of widening consultation throughout the budgeting process as well as the dissemination of audit findings. In this regard the Open Budget Ratings place South Africa in the second position.

In relation to Corporate Governance, the Report notes the existence of a sound legislative regulatory framework to ensure good corporate governance. It also highlights the review and transformation of Companies legislation and assesses the conduct of companies in the private sector and how their planning is informed by national development imperatives. The Report also addresses issues related to consumers and shareholders rights.

On the Socio-Economic Development thematic area, the Report highlights Government's approach and progress with regards to combating HIV and AIDS, explores strategies and programmes to decrease the rate of unemployment and poverty, improve early childhood development programmes and children's nutrition as well as measures taken to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the education system.

The Report also addresses the cross-cutting issues as identified in the Country Review Report. It should be noted that the responses to some of the cross-cutting issues have been addressed in the relevant thematic areas, that is, Capacity Constraints and Service Delivery, Poverty and Inequality, and HIV / AIDS Pandemic.

In general, the Report reflects tremendous progress that South Africa has made with regard to matters of Good Governance as a tool through which sustainable socio-economic development can be achieved. Equally, the Report highlights relative deficiencies with regard to the four thematic areas (as well as the selected cross-cutting issues) and proposes possible solutions and mechanisms aimed at addressing them.

Bilateral Relations in Governance and Public Administration

At a bilateral level, the Department continued to build strategic partnerships with like-minded countries to promote South Africa's domestic interests. This construction of partnerships was informed by the overall South African policy on the contribution and the promotion of the South-South cooperation. In pursuance of these imperatives, the Department facilitated and coordinated more than 50 bilateral relations. These included, but were not limited to, the hosting of a several delegations such as those of Senior Officials from the French Ministry of Interior in April 2011, Tanzania Public Service Management delegation in May 2011, the Indian delegation on a Competency Based HRM Initiative benchmarking in September 2012, the Chinese Minister for Supervision in July 2012 and a study tour to DPSA by a delegation from Vietnam.

In November 2012, the Minister for Public Service and Administration signed an MOU with the Chinese Ministry of Human Resources and Social Security, the Minister also attended a International Anti-corruption Conference 7-10 November 2012 in Brazil.

These bilateral exchanges have presented a platform for information and experience sharing on the successful models of modernisation of the State. The cross pollination of ideas between and among countries has exposed DPSA officials and visiting delegations to best practices in innovative service delivery that has informed service delivery initiative both in South Africa and the partner countries. More importantly and resulting from this diverse hosting mandate South Africa has over time demonstrated, to Africa and the World, capabilities that have mastered recognition as international best practice in public service and administration.

Multilateral and Institutional Forums in Governance and Public Administration

The African Charter on the Values and Principles of Public Service and Administration (the African Charter), in which South Africa played a critical role, was adopted by AU Summit in 2011. The department also facilitated and coordinated (1) South Africa's participation in the African Public Service Day bi-ennial continental celebrations in Tanzania and Ghana in 2011 and 2013 respectively and (2) the high level South African participation at the 33rd, 34th and 35th AAPAM Round Table Conferences.

There has been increased visibility of South Africa on the African and global stage, and her image has been enhanced by such programmes as AAPSIA, the African Charter, AAPAM and the active role played in the OECD and the UN system generally. Through this wide and diverse engagement in the sphere of governance and public administration, South Africa lived up to its reputation as a dependable international partner.

HIGHLIGHTS AND ACHIEVEMENTS FOR THE 2013/14 FINANCIAL YEAR

Remuneration and Market Analysis

- The department has initiated and facilitated the establishment of the Presidential Remuneration Review Commission. The Commission is appointed to investigate remuneration and conditions of service in the public service and public entities listed in Schedule 3A and 3C of the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999) (PFMA), with the remuneration of educators receiving priority attention, including matters relating to organisational development, job evaluation and grading, recruitment, appointment and promotion, human resource planning and utilisation, and performance management systems, policies and practices.
- The annual salary adjustments for SL 1 – 12 and SMS members in the public service has been implemented . The adjustment is a benefit improvement for public service employees as it protects their salaries from inflation erosion.

Conditions of Service

- The Department has revised and aligned the medical aid provisions for pre- and post-retirement – the matter is currently before the PSCBC. The Personnel Expenditure Review 2011 found that the PILIR policy has reduced the abuse of sick leave thus having a positive impact on reducing the wage bill. Through PILIR, the State has been able to invest in granting incapacity leave and ill-health retirement benefits in deserving cases. PILIR has also been effective in reducing the cost of ill-health retirement, thus resulting in savings for the State.
- Employees became more aware of their responsibility to manage and use their normal sick leave entitlements with circumspect. The employer also made a difference in some employees' lives where they truly needed additional leave to recover from major injuries/illnesses, while their skills and knowledge could be retained. The assessment of incapacity leave and ill-health retirement is managed through a uniform policy.
- The Department has also revised and aligned the medical aid provisions for pre- and post-retirement – the matter is currently before the PSCBC.

Labour Relations and Negotiations

- Through the signing of the multi-year agreement, PSCBC Resolution 1 of 2012, for the period 2012/13 – 2014/15 on improvement in salaries and conditions of service for the period 2012/13 – 2014/15, the Department has contributed to labour peace in the public service. Parties in the PSCBC have turned an often, very antagonistic relationship between employer and employee into one that can actually work toward the achievement of our collective goals, including sound labour relations in the public service.
- The signing of the multi-year agreement has enabled parties to focus on those outstanding issues that are necessary in building a capable State, in the creation of an environment where the public service can thrive and deliver better services. Instabilities manifest in the forms of increased disputes which often lead to strikes, thus making it impossible for government to focus on key service delivery programmes.
- The multi-year agreement ensures stability, it gives government the opportunity to grow the economy, achieve sound labour relations between the State as the employer and its employees as the State is afforded the opportunity to implement the policies that it agreed to during the negotiations process. The agreement also provides parties with the opportunity and latitude to collectively research and examine broader labour relations matters, such as improvement in discipline management in the public service, training and development, all of which enhance the work environment and would not have been possible in the normal course of annual wage negotiations.

CHANGES TO PLANNED TARGETS

PART C

GOVERNANCE

Risk Management

During the 2013/14 financial year, the department continued to implement its approved risk management policy and strategy by conducting regular risk assessments and by including project risk assessments to cement implementation of the strategy whilst identifying emerging risks. The established Risk management Committee was made more comprehensive by including all the Branch Heads.

This has given Branch Heads a more participative role in the overall management of risk management system in the Department. It is anticipated that this will make the department more effective which will result in significant improvement in the Department's performance. The Audit Committee played an oversight role by reviewing risk management reports during its quarterly meetings to determine the effectiveness of risk management activities within the Department.

Fraud and Corruption

The Department's revised Fraud and Corruption Prevention plan has taken into consideration the risks of fraud and corruption that are normally identified during the business risk assessment. In addition to reporting suspected fraud and corruption to the National Anti-Corruption Hotline, employees are encouraged to make confidential disclosures about suspected fraud and corruption to established internal mechanisms such as Internal Audit and Legal Services Units. Alleged cases are investigated and reported to the relevant institution depending on the outcome of the investigation.

Minimizing Conflict of Interest

Conflict of Interest in the Department is minimised by the declaration of interest by senior managers and also in committees such as the Bid Specification Committees, Bid Evaluation Committees, Bid Adjudication Committee, Audit Committee and recruitment and selection panels. The Department has had all Supply Chain Management Practitioners sign a code of conduct to the extent required by their position whereby they should declare any business, commercial and financial interests or activities undertaken for financial gain that may raise possible conflict of interest. The Department strives to uphold the code of conduct and during the year under review, all employees of the department were requested to sign the code of conduct (which has been placed on each employees personnel file) to ensure they are aware and willing to abide by the code. In cases where the Code of Conduct is contravened the department does take disciplinary action.

In the human resource environment, during the Recruitment and Selection process Panel Members are required to declare their interest in any candidate(s) shortlisted/interviewed for a post and therefore agree that should it be verified that they have misinformed the committee, they would be penalised as per measures contained in the disciplinary code.

The same applies for the Job Evaluation Panel meetings whereby each member is required to declare interest/conflict with regard to posts being evaluated.

Code of Conduct

The Department raised awareness towards the enforcement of Chapter 2 of the Public Service Regulations on the Code of Conduct by including the Code of Conduct in the DPSA's Internal Induction Programme for all new appointees the Department.

In addition, staff were sent a copy of the Code of Conduct, through an Internal Memo, for each employee to read and sign a copy of the Code of Conduct and to return ,to Human Resources , a signed copy of the Code which is to be placed on their Personnel File. In addition, the department drafted through consultation with staff a Dress Code Policy, a Procedure on seeking and obtaining permission to perform Remunerative Work outside the Public Service/Department as well as a Gift Policy to address the relevant areas contained in the Code of Conduct.

The Department also wrote a letter to employees, identified through CIPRO, who were found to be conducting remunerative work outside the department, for them to indicate why they did not seek permission and to motivate why the Department should not take disciplinary steps against them. In many cases employees have indicated that they were not receiving remuneration due to the company either being dormant or that they had de-registered from the company. This matter is still being finalised.

Health Safety and Environmental Issues

Health and Safety representatives and a committee were legally appointed as stipulated by the Occupational Health and Safety Act (Act No 85 of 1993). Quarterly inspections were conducted and risks were identified and addressed.

Portfolio Committees

During the period under review, the Department was invited by the Portfolio Committee on Public Service and Administration to provide briefings on the dates and issues outlined in the table 2.5.7 (a) below. Issues that were requested by the Portfolio Committee were progress reports and a Bill on Public Administration Management. SCOPA Resolutions

During the 2013/14 financial year, the Department was not invited to SCOPA meetings and as a result there are no issues to report in this regard.

Prior modifications to audit reports

The audit opinion for the 2012/13 financial year was unqualified. The matters that were reported in the 2013 Audit Report and in the Management Letter were the following and the steps which DPSA took to resolve the issues are as follows:

Finding	Financial year in which it first arose	Progress made in clearing/resolving the matter
Matters affecting the audit report: Material misstatements
Incorrect disclosure of commitments in the financial statements (under disclosure), note 30 R12 012128.62	2011/12	In working toward resolving this matter the Department has put in place the following measures: A payment checklist created for each established contract. Proper records are kept of all payments made per contract on a monthly basis. All SITA contracts has been reviewed and added to the contract register. The matter was however not yet resolved in the interim audit for 2013/14 due to a human error in the calculation of the template.
Incorrect disclosure of assets (under disclosure) and over disclosure of disposal of assets, note 31 R2 845 620.90	2012/13	This matter has been resolved.
Non-achievement of set targets	2009/10	This matter has not yet been fully resolved. The achievement of targets is done through the monitoring on quarterly milestones and submitted to the Director-General for intervention with Deputy Directors-General. These reports are presented at MANCO and EXCO and also submitted to National Treasury, the Director-General and the Minister. Action plans are also prepared to address areas of underperformance.
Non-compliance on submission of quarterly reports.	2012/13	The first quarter report for 2013/14 was submitted one day later than 30 days which again will result in non-compliance in this area.

Finding	Financial year in which it first arose	Progress made in clearing/resolving the matter
Non-Compliance with laws and regulations
Payroll Reports not certified and returned to the Chief Financial Officer timeously.	2012/13	This matter is not yet resolved. Although a remarkable improvement was evident during the earlier part of 2013/14 the implementation of the new organisational structure of the Department in January 2014 affected this area negatively. The process has again been reviewed and all efforts are made to ensure compliance on this matter for 2014/15.
Vacant post not advertised and filled within the required period.	2012/13	Although a vacancy management database is being maintained and progress in filling vacancies is reported on at EXCO it is not yielding the required results. The matter remains unresolved. The amended organisational structure in January 2014 also contributes to this problem and the department is in process of identifying the priority vacant posts which can be filled within the budgetary constraints.
Two payments made using the same supporting documentation.	2012/13	This matter has been resolved. A manual system for tracking duplicates payments system has been implemented.
Double Payments not reversed	2012/13	This matter has also been resolved by means of the above mentioned tracking system.
Deviations caused by lack of proper planning of events.	2012/13	Although branch heads and managers has been made aware and reminded to plan their activities and events in advance to avoid unnecessary deviations requests this matter has not yet been resolved as two cases has been identified by Internal Audit.
Total number of exceptions and deviations according to contract register.	2012/13	This matter has been resolved by updating the supplier database with new registration of suppliers.
Trend of deviations: Items procured during the year ought to have been procured on a fixed term contract Trends using the deviation system as a vehicles to spend funds considered abusive of the supply chain management system.	2012/13	This matter has been resolved. A deviation register has been implemented and is being monitored on a regular basis and reported to the accounting officer.
Technical Indicator descriptions on performance not prepared (Annexure E not in place for 12/13 FY)	2012/13	Although progress has been made in this area Internal Audit is still of the opinion that in the 2013/14 Annual Performance Plan there are indicators that are not well defined and/or measurable.
Instances of indicators not well-defined and verifiable	2011/12	Although progress has been made in this area Internal Audit is still of the opinion that in the 2013/14 Annual Performance Plan there are indicators that are not well defined and/or measurable.
Instances of targets that are not SMART	2011/12	Although progress has been made in this area Internal Audit is still of the opinion that in the 2013/14 Annual Performance Plan not all targets can be considered as SMART.
Reported objectives/indicators/targets not consistent with planned objectives/indicators/targets.	2012/13	Although progress has been made in this area Internal Audit is still of the opinion that this issue has not yet been resolved fully.

Finding	Financial year in which it first arose	Progress made in clearing/resolving the matter
Incorrect amount of learners reported.	2012/13	Resolved. Internal Audit is verifying the evidence submitted on a quarterly basis.
ISA: User access management: PERSAL LOGIS	2011/12	PERSAL: Not resolved as the PERSAL procedures has not yet been updated. LOGIS: Not resolved. Although the procedure has been updated on the side of monitoring no proof of investigations into suspicious access could be provided.
ISA: Information technology service continuity.	2011/12	Resolved.
Lack of SITA oversight	2012/13	Resolved.

Internal Control Unit

The Department relies on the work of the Internal Audit Activity for assurance on the adequacy and effectiveness of the department's internal controls. Based on various reports submitted by internal audit during the year, it can be reported that there is great improvement in the department's system of internal control when compared to prior years. Management's commitment to implement action plans on weaknesses identified during previous audits is proving beneficial in the safeguarding of assets and the effective and efficient management of departmental resources.

Internal Audit and Audit Committees

The Department's Internal Audit Activity provides independent and objective assurance and insight to management on the effectiveness of governance, risk management and internal control systems in order to assist the Department to achieve its objectives. A total of eight audit projects as per the approved risk-based internal audit plan were undertaken during the year and reports presented to the Audit Committee. Where shortcomings were identified, management is in the process of attending to such weaknesses.

The Audit Committee monitors the Department's compliance with applicable laws and regulations, governance processes and continuously assesses the performance of Internal Audit Activity to determine the level of its effectiveness within the department. The Committee operated within an approved Charter and in accordance with the requirements of the PFMA.

The table below discloses relevant information on the audit committee members.

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE

We are pleased to present our report for the financial year ended 31 March 2014.

Audit Committee Responsibility

The Audit Committee reports that it has complied with its responsibilities arising from Section 38(1) (a) (ii) of the Public Finance Management Act and Treasury Regulation 3.1.13. The Audit Committee also reports that it has adopted appropriate formal terms of reference as its Audit Committee Charter, has regulated its affairs in compliance with this charter and has discharged all its responsibilities as contained therein, except that we have not reviewed changes in accounting policies and practices.

The Effectiveness of Internal Control

The system of internal control is designed to provide cost-effective assurance that assets are safeguarded and that liabilities are effectively managed. In line with PFMA requirements, Internal Audit and the Auditor-General of South Africa (AGSA) provide the Audit Committee and management with assurance that the internal controls are adequate and effective. This is achieved by means of evaluating the effectiveness of the management of identified risks, as well as the identification of corrective actions and suggested enhancements to the controls and processes.

The system of internal control was not entirely effective during the year under review, as several instances of non-compliance with internal controls were reported by both Internal Audit and AGSA. Of particular concern to the Audit Committee is the fact that a number of the matters raised by the AGSA are repeat findings from one or more previous years. The Audit committee will continue to monitor progress against the corrective action plans implemented by the management of DPSA.

Internal audit

The Audit Committee reviewed and approved the annual internal audit plan for 2013/2014 and monitored performance of internal audit against the plan on a quarterly basis. The Audit Committee is satisfied that the internal audit function is operating effectively and that it has addressed the risks pertinent to the department in its audits.

Risk Management

Risk management is still relatively new in the Department. However, the Audit Committee monitored on a quarterly basis the achievement of internal risk management milestones through the review of quarterly progress reports against the internal risk management implementation plan. Risk management reporting continues to be a permanent agenda item for the Audit Committee to ensure effective risk management oversight.

The Department has established a Risk Management Committee during the year under review and the Audit Committee will continue to monitor the activities of this committee to ensure that risk management achieves the desired maturity levels in the Department.

In-Year Management and Monthly/Quarterly Report

The department has reported monthly and quarterly to National Treasury as required by the PFMA. The Audit Committee is satisfied with the content and quality of monthly and quarterly reports prepared and issued by the Accounting Officer of the Department during the year under review. Certain improvements to the quality of performance information reports had been recommended to the Department and significant progress has as a result been noted.

Evaluation of Financial Statements

The Audit Committee has:

- reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements to be included in the annual report, with the AGSA and the Accounting Officer;
- reviewed the AGSA management report and management's response thereto;
- reviewed changes in accounting policies and practices;
- reviewed the department's compliance with legal regulatory provisions;
- reviewed the financial statements for any significant adjustments resulting from the audit, and
- reviewed information on predetermined objectives to be included in the annual report.

Auditor General's Report

The Audit Committee has met and discussed with the Auditor-General South Africa their report, to ensure that there are no unresolved issues. We have also reviewed the department's implementation plan for the audit issues raised in the AGSA management report and continuous oversight will be exercised to ensure that all matters are adequately addressed.

Other matters

At the end of 2013/14 financial year, it was brought to our attention that in 2010, the Department of Public Services and Administration (department) had entered into a memorandum of understanding with Centre Public Service Innovation (CPSI), in which the two parties agreed to incorporate the CPSI predetermined performance information into the department's annual report. The agreement further required the Audit Committee of the department to exercise an oversight on the performance of CPSI. The existence of this agreement was however not brought to the attention of the Audit committee earlier and no information or reports relating to CPSI performance were submitted to the Audit Committee during the financial year and prior years. As CPSI is an autonomous entity with its Accounting Officer and reports directly to the Minister, we could not have known, without being informed by management that our oversight responsibility extends to CPSI. Consequently we did not perform any oversight role on the performance of CPSI. Management has since undertaken to present the performance information of CPSI to the Audit Committee on a quarterly basis for review starting from the first quarter of the 2014/15 financial year.

Conclusion

The Audit Committee recognises the improvement in performance on the part of DPSA as compared to prior years. However; it is still a concern that the Department has failed to achieve 22% of planned targets during the year under review. The Audit Committee urges management to implement an action plan to address non-achievement of targets on a quarterly basis, so that the problems of non-performance can be arrested timeously. The Audit Committee also urges the Department to hold the relevant members of management accountable for the non-achievement of targets in their particular areas.

The Audit Committee wishes to thank the Director-General and relevant staff of DPSA for their continued commitment to the good governance within the Department. The Audit Committee also congratulates the Department for achieving another unqualified audit report for the period under review. Our appreciation is also extended to the Chief Financial Officer and finance team for their efforts regarding the financial statements for the year and to the team from the AGSA for the value they continue to add to the Department.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Introduction

1. I have audited the financial statements of the Department of Public Service and Administration set out on pages 169 to 232, which comprise the appropriation statement, the statement of financial position as at 31 March 2014, the statement of financial performance, statement of changes in net assets, and the cash flow statement for the year then ended, as well as the notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Accounting officer's responsibility for the financial statements

2. The accounting officer is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the Modified Cash Standard (MCS) prescribed by the National Treasury and the requirements of the Public Finance Management Act of South Africa, 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999) (PFMA), and for such internal control as the accounting officer determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor-general's responsibility

3. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with the Public Audit Act of South Africa, 2004 (Act No. 25 of 2004) (PAA), the general notice issued in terms thereof and International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements, and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.
4. An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.
5. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

6. In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Department of Public Service and Administration as at 31 March 2014 and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with the Modified Cash Standard prescribed by the National Treasury and the requirements of the PFMA.

Emphasis of matter paragraph

7. The following emphasis of matter paragraphs will be included in our auditor's report to draw the users' attention to matters presented or disclosed in the financial statements

Financial reporting framework

8. As disclosed in note 21 – part of the accounting policies to the financial statements, the National Treasury has exempted the Centre of Public Service Innovation (CPSI) from complying with section 40 of the PFMA for the reasons indicated. The Exemption allows the DPSA to include the financial transactions and balances of CPSI in the financial statements for the period 2008/09 to 2014/2015.

ADDITIONAL MATTER PARAGRAPH

9. I draw attention to the matter below. My opinion is not modified in respect of this matter:

Unaudited supplementary schedules

10. The supplementary information set out on pages 233 to 252 does not form part of the financial statements and is presented as additional information. I have not audited this schedule and, accordingly, I do not express an opinion thereon

REPORT ON OTHER LEGAL AND REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

11. In accordance with the PAA and the general notice issued in terms thereof, I report the following findings on the reported performance information against predetermined objectives for the selected programmes presented in the annual performance report, non-compliance with legislation as well as internal control. The objective of my tests was to identify reportable findings as described under each subheading but not to gather evidence to express assurance on these matters. Accordingly, I do not express an opinion or conclusion on these matters.

Predetermined objectives

12. I performed procedures to obtain evidence about the usefulness and reliability of the reported performance information for the following selected presented in the annual performance report of the department for the year ended 31 March 2014:

- Programme 5: Service delivery and organisational transformation on pages 89 to 103
- Programme 6: Governance and international relations on pages 104 to 113
- CPSI on pages 253 to 270

13. I evaluated the reported performance information against the overall criteria of usefulness and reliability.

14. I evaluated the usefulness of the reported performance information to determine whether it was presented in accordance with the National Treasury's annual reporting principles and whether the reported performance was consistent with the planned programmes. I further performed tests to determine whether indicators and targets were well defined, verifiable, specific, measurable, time bound and relevant, as required by the National Treasury's Framework for managing programme performance information (FMPPi).

15. I assessed the reliability of the reported performance information to determine whether it was valid, accurate and complete.

16. The material findings in respect of the selected programmes are as follows:

Programme 5: Service delivery and organisational transformation

Usefulness and reliability of reported performance information

17. I did not raise any material findings on the usefulness and reliability of the reported performance information for Programme 5: Service delivery and organisational transformation.

Programme 6: Governance and international relations

Usefulness and reliability of reported performance information

18. I did not raise any material findings on the usefulness and reliability of the reported performance information for Programme 6: Governance and International Relations

Centre for Public Service Innovation (CPSI)

Usefulness of reported performance information

19. Treasury Regulation 5.2.4 requires that the strategic plan forms the basis for the annual report, therefore requiring consistency of objectives, indicators and targets between planning and reporting documents. A total of 38% (>20 %) of the reported targets were not consistent with those in the approved strategic plan. This was due to a lack CPSI applying the Framework for Strategic Plans and Annual Performance Plans issued by National Treasury, had the DPSA included them in the annual report as instructed by the Government Gazette the CPSI would have received guidance through the relevant parties, which would have included an external audit
20. The FMPPPI requires the following:

Performance targets and indicators must be measurable. We could not measure the required performance for 27% (>20%) of the indicators and targets. This was due to a lack CPSI applying the Framework for Strategic Plans and Annual Performance Plans issued by National Treasury, had the DPSA included them in the annual report as instructed by the Government Gazette the CPSI would have received guidance through the relevant parties, which would have included an external audit

Reliability of reported performance information

21. I did not raise any material findings on the reliability of the reported performance information for the Centre for Public Service Innovation.

Additional matters:

22. I draw attention to the following matters;

Achievement of planned targets

23. Refer to the annual performance report on page(s) x to x for the DPSA and pages x to x CPSI for information on the achievement of planned targets for the year. This information should be considered in the context of the significant findings on the usefulness of the reported performance information for CPSI in paragraph 19 and 20 of this report

Adjustment of material misstatements

24. I identified a material misstatement in the annual performance report of the DPSA that was submitted for audit purposes. The annual performance report for CPSI was not included in the annual report of the DPSA as it was submitted as a stand-alone report. The DPSA has subsequently included the report on predetermined objectives as an annexure in their annual report.

Compliance with legislation

25. I performed procedures to obtain evidence that the Department of Public Service and Administration had complied with applicable legislation regarding financial matters, financial management and other related matters. My findings on material non-compliance with specific matters in key legislation, as set out in the general notice issued in terms of the PAA, are as follows:

Procurement and contract management

26. Contracts were awarded to eight bidders who submitted a declaration but did not declare that they are employed by the other state or connected to any person employed by the state, which is prescribed in order to comply with Treasury regulation 16A8.3.

Internal control

27. I considered internal control relevant to my audit of the financial statements, information on predetermined objectives and compliance with laws and regulations. The matters reported below under the fundamentals of internal control are limited to the significant deficiencies that resulted in the findings on compliance with laws and regulations included in this report.

Leadership

28. The DPSA and CPSI did not have sufficient monitoring controls to ensure adherence to the internal policies and procedures regarding the reporting of predetermined objectives. As a result CPSI's report on predetermined objectives was not included in the annual report of DPSA submitted for auditing, but was submitted separately for auditing.

Financial and performance management

29. Non-compliance with legislation could have been prevented had compliance been properly reviewed and monitored.

OTHER REPORTS

Performance audits

30. The Report of the Auditor-General of South Africa on the readiness of government to report on its performance will be tabled during 2014. The DPSA was one of the 61 institutions and departments audited during this audit. The performance audit focused on the following:
- The systems and processes that government departments have put in place to report on their performance
 - The performance reporting guidance and oversight government departments received.

Note to the reader

This annexure only includes Part B: which focuses on the performance information. The CPSI's funding is allocated through the DPSA's departmental vote. As a result the DPSA prepares and publishes one set of financial statements and human resource information which includes the CPSI in its Annual Report.

This section (Part B) must therefore be read in concurrence with department of public service and administration's (DPSA) 2013/14 Annual Report. The complete CPSI's 2013/14 Annual Report can be download from the CPSI website: www.cpsi.co.za

1. AUDITOR GENERAL'S REPORT: PREDETERMINED OBJECTIVES

Report of the Auditor General concerning the CPSI is included in the Principal Department, the DPSA's Annual report.

2. OVERVIEW OF DEPARTMENTAL PERFORMANCE

2.1 Service Delivery Environment

The CPSI is mandated to create a facility for the whole of government to enhance innovative capability and focus for service delivery enhancements. Its mandate is facilitated through cross-sector partnerships to break down barriers, silos, territorialism, and to entrench collaboration across sectors and spheres. This further creates strong linkages with ICT developments and science and technology innovations.

As a government component, the CPSI is not a policy-making entity and is not enforcing legislation and regulation although operating within legislative requirements. As such the CPSI is easily approachable by government departments who willingly share on their shortcomings. It is also strategically positioned to influence and support service delivery policies in various sectors by facilitating successful pilots for mainstreaming by service delivery departments.

Within the past year CPSI experienced a growing demand for support, intervention and guidance by government institutions, external stakeholders and institutions within the National System of Innovation (e.g. National Advisory Council on Innovation and the Innovation Hub). There was also a growing demand from the international communities for South Africa's expertise on public sector innovation. For instance the CPSI served on the UN's Expert Group to assist Least Developed Countries to leverage innovation to achieve Millennium Development Goals; supported the President's Open Government Partnership initiative.

2.2 Service Delivery Improvement Plan

The CPSI does not deliver any services to citizens but plays a facilitative role in enabling other departments to improve their services through innovation. As the support to departments and other public entities is demand-driven, the nature of engagement is unique to each initiative. Such initiatives are guided by the principles of cooperative governance, as encapsulated in the Constitution. CPSI assists departments to achieve their service delivery commitments in line with their service delivery improvement plans.

2.3 Organisational environment

During the period under review, the CPSI remained the strategic facility of the portfolio to support the whole of government, including local government, to find innovative, more efficient and effective ways to deliver on our priorities. There were no significant developments internal to the organisation that impacted on the CPSI's ability to deliver on its Strategic Plan and Annual Performance Plan.

A challenge experienced during the period under review is the lack of an appropriate funding model for service delivery innovation within government institutions in support of the piloting of innovative solutions. The CPSI is collaborating with institutions in the National System of Innovation and the National Treasury on the development of a funding model. In the absence of a funding model, private sector support has been solicited for a number of pilot projects. However, dependency on private sector funding impacts on the timeframes of pilot projects.

In term of Section 1 of the Public Finance Management Act, CPSI, as a National Government Component, is as a national department with an Accounting Officer. In terms of Schedule 3 A of the Public Service Act the Executive Director of the CPSI is the accounting officer and directly accountable to the Minister for the Public Service and Administration.

However, in terms of funding arrangements, the CPSI is presently funded as a sub-programme of the DPSA's Programme 5. This means that National Treasury only recognises the Director General of the DPSA as accountable for spending that takes place in the sub-programme. However, in order for the Executive Director of the CPSI to become directly accountable for spending by the CPSI, National Treasury advised that the CPSI should be funded through transfers. Currently, the Corporate Services of the CPSI are rendered by the DPSA in accordance with a Memorandum of Understanding between the CPSI and DPSA and governed by Government Notice 34562 of 2 September 2011. Although there is a good working relationship and co-operation between the Director-General and the Executive Director, the situation is not ideal for day-to-day operations of the organisation.

The Minister approved the new funding model through transfers and the National Treasury was approached by the DPSA with a request for the creation of a transfer to the CPSI. This matter was not addressed by the National Treasury during the year under review, and will again be approached during the upcoming Medium Term Expenditure Framework (MTEF) period. The planned funding arrangements of the CPSI would have significant resource implications for operations of the CPSI over the medium term.

2.4 Key policy developments and legislative changes

In the period under review there were no new policy developments or legislative changes that affected the CPSI's operations.

3. STRATEGIC OUTCOME ORIENTED GOALS

In the Strategic Plan for 2012/15 the CPSI identified the following strategic objectives that are aligned to Government's priority outcomes;

- Effective and efficient improved systems, structures and processes of public administration through innovation, aimed at establishing a culture and practice of innovation in the public sector. It is achieved through enabling and facilitating improved effectiveness and efficiency of systems, structures and processes.
- Enhanced innovation capabilities focused on improved service delivery, and maximized use of Information and Technology Communication (ICT) and Science and Technology related innovations. By focusing on government's priorities and practical demonstrations of innovation in the public sector, the CPSI undertakes projects that culminate in the testing, piloting and implementation of real-life devices, models and processes for service delivery improvement. This relies on the leveraging of partnerships with sectorial departments, State Owned Enterprises, academic, non-governmental and private sector organisations, as well as international donors. The focus of projects will remain on safety and security, education, health and water integrity.
- An environment, in which innovation is encouraged, rewarded and mainstreamed. Through the annual Public Sector Innovation Awards Programme existing innovations are unearthed and rewarded and efforts of public sector innovators are recognized. The Awards programme further provides opportunities for the replication and facilitation of the mainstreaming of successful innovations.
- A functional walk-in Multi-media Innovation Centre for learning, demonstrating and incubation innovation. The MMIC is a walk-in facility providing opportunities for public sector officials to interrogate challenges, analyse business processes for revision and improvement, access repositories on public sector innovation and kick-start the development of new solutions.
- Growing repositories of innovative solutions through the established knowledge products and platforms. The annual South African Public Sector Innovation Conference, the South African Public Sector Innovation Journal "Ideas the Work" and the UNPAN Portal, are some of the products and platforms that are sustained.

4. PERFORMANCE INFORMATION BY PROGRAMME

In terms of government's strategic priorities to build an efficient, effective and development oriented public service (Outcome 12), the CPSI determined the following outputs:

- Demonstrating innovative and effective systems, structures and processes;
- Ensuring effective public sector cadres development; and
- Contributing towards improved public service and administration in Africa and international area.

To ensure that the CPSI delivers on these priorities, the CPSI's current projects are responding to the priority outcomes as articulated by the President, in particular:

- Quality basic education;
- All people in South Africa are and feel safe;
- Decent employment through inclusive economic growth;
- Skilled and capable workforce to support an inclusive growth path;
- Vibrant, equitable, sustainable rural communities contributing toward food security for all; and
- Responsive, accountable, effective and efficient Local Government System.

The activities of the CPSI are organised in the following Work Streams:

- Work stream 1: Corporate Services;
- Work stream 2: Research and Development;
- Work stream 3: Solution Support and Incubation, and
- Work stream 4: Enabling Environment.

4.1 Work Stream 1: Corporate Services

The objective of the Corporate Services is to ensure the overall administration and governance of the CPSI, in line with the applicable Acts, Regulations and shared service arrangements within the DPSA. The Corporate Services Work Stream is the focal point for all financial management, procurement and human resource management related activities, and therefore minimising the administrative load on other Work Streams.

The Strategic objectives of this Work Stream are to:

- Develop and implement policies.
- Promote CPSI through marketing and communication.
- Provide effective financial management and human resources.
- Provide up-to-date, reliable and efficient systems to CPSI.
- Provide infrastructure, logical, security and office support services to CPSI staff.

4.2 Work Stream 2: Research and Development

The Research and Development Work Stream's objective is to investigate and recommend sustainable models and solutions for innovative service delivery. This Work Stream is informed by the need to understand the fundamental causes of service delivery challenges. The component must therefore unearth the root causes of challenges to improve and develop our interventions and to ensure that proposed solutions do address the identified problems. Collaboration with departments, civil society and research institutions is critical to investigate and confirm service delivery challenges, potential policy failures or policy implementation failures. A future-looking responsibility of this Work Stream ensures that the public service becomes pro-active rather than remain responsive by addressing only the existing challenges. The functions of the Work Stream can be described as to:

- Study service delivery challenges and needs and recommend possible innovative solutions and models within the public sector;
- Analyse and explore suitability of solutions and models that could inform innovative service delivery and propose monitoring and evaluation approaches for implementation to ensure sustainability of solutions;
- Track and record innovative projects in all spheres of government nationally and internationally for possible replication and publication;
- Develop and maintain research partnerships and stakeholder management.

Achievements against the performance indicators and targets for 2013/14

New innovations:

- Cooperative Inland Waterways Safety Project which is a pilot at five dams to create a model for environmentally sustainable and safe waterways practices and ensuring water integrity. The project centres on the construction and operation of wash bays at each boat landing at the piloted dams.

All wash bays were built and are operational with the exception of the one at Midmar Dam where the site for the wash bay was moved after consultation with all stakeholders. In addition, the Department of Environmental Affairs introduced a mobile wash bay for use at special events where there are no wash bay facilities.

The CPSI piloted the use of the Unique Position Numbering (UPN) incident management system at three dams and in the Vanderkloof community. The system was officially handed over by the CPSI to the Department of Water Affairs at the launch of the Cooperative Inland Waterways Safety Project at Vanderkloof Dam in March 2014. The Department of Water Affairs has adopted this innovative solution and is currently rolling it out to all dams in the country. During the period under review, 20 incidents were reported through the UPN and responded to by the relevant authorities.

Furthermore, Dam Management Committees were established at pilot dams and the committee chairpersons were trained during the period under review and provided with a toolkit for managing the initiative at dam level.

The Cooperative Inland Waterways Safety Project provides the bases for the development of the Resource Management Plans of the Department of Water Affairs.

Increased uptake of M and related technologies:

- The CPSI partnered with The Innovation Hub, Tshwane Metro and a number of other stakeholders in an initiative to create an Innovation Exchange (OpenIX). This online platform (<http://openix.theinnovationhub.com/>) allows seekers of solutions to post their challenges and innovators (mostly small, medium and micro enterprises (SMMEs)) to respond and submit their solutions. The CPSI submitted two challenges and the following projects, that leveraged mobile and related technologies, were identified for piloting:
 - In partnership with the Tshwane Metro, solutions were solicited for the elimination of duplication in the dispensing of chronic medication. Tshwane initiated a pilot project in District 3 of the Tshwane Metro during the period under review.
 - Proposals from potential Innovators (mostly SMMEs) were received for a challenge on crime prevention and reporting in informal settlements. The challenge was submitted by the CPSI in collaboration with the Honeydew policing cluster. A process of evaluation and selection of potential solutions was completed. The proposed solutions must, however, be developed further and piloting is planned for the new financial year.
- Gauteng Innovation Competition - The CPSI supported the second Gauteng Innovation Competition as an adjudicator in the Mobile Technologies for Local Service Delivery category. The adjudication of the entries in this category was finalised in November 2013 and the Awards Ceremony was held in December 2013.

4.3 Work Stream 3: Solution Support and Incubation

The objective of the Work Stream is to test, pilot, demonstrate and mainstream innovative solutions (ICT and non-ICT) for the public sector. Challenges and potential solutions are interrogated in collaboration with stakeholders to ensure that line departments and implementing institutions assume ownership of sector specific innovations.

This Work Stream is also responsible for the management of the Multi-media Innovation Centre (MMIC) that has been established within the CPSI. The MMIC is a content driven exhibition and decision-support centre with various innovative platforms for learning, innovation demonstration and planning opportunities for the public sector on innovation implementation.

The MMIC provides space and a platform for public servants to interrogate their specific challenges, and to explore and incubate solutions. This is achieved through capitalising on the full potential of ICTs for both internal efficiency gains and in enhancing service delivery.

The functions of the Solution Support and Incubation Work Stream can be described as to:

- Explore innovative solutions with relevant stakeholders to enhance service delivery in the public sector;
- Customise and/ or adapt global and local solutions to address service delivery challenges;
- Build and maintain ICT and non-ICT partnerships with appropriate stakeholders, institutions and experts;
- Provide a platform for sharing, demonstrating, incubating and main-streaming of innovative solutions to service delivery challenges.

Achievements against the performance indicators and targets for 2013/14

Replication:

- The perma-culture project was replicated in the Eastern Cape, Port Alfred, Bhungwini Primary School. The perma-culture project was a CPSI award winning project in service delivery institutions in 2010. This project encourages self-sufficiency through the use of organic gardening methods which is also linked to the school curriculum and local job creation. The project was officially launched in July 2013 by the Minister for Public Service and Administration during the Mandela week celebrations.
- The Kwa-Zulu Natal (KZN) Telemedicine project (Chief Albert Luthuli hospital), another award winning project from the 2013 CPSI Awards was identified for replication in the Gauteng Province at Tshepo-Themba and Helen Joseph Hospitals. The project uses ICTs to connect rural and underserved hospitals and clinics with specialised radiological services. The stakeholders have been identified, including Provincial Health Departments, Tshepo-Themba, Port Shepstone, Chief Albert Luthuli and Helen Joseph hospitals. Project requirements have been verified (i.e. infrastructure and connectivity requirements) and Helen Joseph hospital has undertaken to replicate the solution in the 2014/15 financial year, as anchor.

Testing and piloting of new innovations:

- Honeydew CCTV Policing Cluster Nerve Centre aims to establish a high-tech real-time crime prevention facility at the South African Police Services (SAPS) Honeydew Cluster. The dashboard has been developed and it provides a bird's eye view of a number of SAPS systems, including the ability to identify and dispatch the nearest police vehicle. The dashboard further facilitates surveillance through CCTV cameras with number-plate recognition capability to identify stolen vehicles and apprehend crime suspects.
- Multi-media Innovation Centre (MMIC) - The MMIC was upgraded as part of the on-going development of the Centre to keep it current. Following the upgrade, 309 public servants and international visitors visited the Centre, including the Government IT Officers (GITO) council, Nigerian and Indian delegations.
- A virtual MMIC, a web-based display of the MMIC content, was developed for off-site events. It was subsequently displayed at the following conferences:
 - 5th Global forum on Innovation and Technology Entrepreneurship in East London in May 2013;
 - Africa Public Service Day in Ghana during June 2013;
 - The African Union Conference of Ministers summit and Innovation Awards Ceremony in Congo-Brazzaville during July 2013;
 - The OGP Summit in the United Kingdom, London during November 2013.

4.4 Work Stream 4: Enabling Environment

The objective of this Work Stream is to create and sustain an enabling environment, which entrenches a culture and practice of innovation in the public sector through innovative platforms and products. The Enabling Environment aims to change the mind-set of public servants and instil in them a self-challenging attitude to do even better. In doing so, the Work Stream encourages the continuous development of public servants to build a cadre of effective and innovative leaders that are creative and responsible risk takers; and cultivates and harnesses thought leadership on innovations, for instance, through a panel of experts that includes academic and private sector innovators.

The annual awards programme facilitates the unearthing of innovative approaches and solutions and promotes internal recognition and acknowledgement of innovators, leading to the unlocking of resources for improved service delivery.

The functions of the Enabling Environment Work Stream can be described as to:

- Establish, maintain and collaborate on local and international innovation learning and knowledge management platforms and products;
- Facilitate building of innovation capacity through partnerships with relevant stakeholders;
- Promote awareness on and advocate the importance of innovation in the public sector;
- Collaborate with and support provincial and local government partners on related activities including Excellence Awards programmes;
- Identify, recognise and reward innovative projects for improved service delivery through an annual awards programme.

Achievements against the performance indicators and targets for 2013/14

- Public Sector Innovation Conference - The annual conference serves as a platform for innovators to share best practices to be able to form cross-sector and other partnerships for replication of solutions to service delivery challenges. The conference was held during August 2013 at Indaba Hotel, Gauteng. The theme of the conference was "Leveraging Innovation as a Catalyst for Enhanced Public Sector Productivity". Conference proceedings were published on the CPSI website and in the South African Public Sector Innovation Journal "Ideas that Work". Four hundred and sixteen delegates registered for the conference.
- Annual CPSI Public Sector Innovation Awards – The Awards programme celebrates successes of individuals and teams and serves as a source for the replication of identified service delivery innovations. The 2013 Awards Ceremony took place in November 2013. Sixteen projects were awarded in four categories, and two special Ministerial Awards were conferred. The Animal Health Project from Gauteng was awarded as the Public Sector Innovator of the Year. Entries continue to increase in number and quality.
